John L. Lewis Orders Mines In U.S. Closed

Move Aimed at Reducing Stocks Of Already-Mined Supply of Coal

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP).—John L. Lewis today ordered United States coal mines shut down for a week, starting Monday.

The order to 450,000 hard and soft coal miners was frankly aimed at reducing the massive stocks of already-mined coal—a 42-day supply.

This would tend to help Lewis wrest greater concessions from the operators in a new contract to replace the one expiring three weeks hence.

"The magnificent production efforts of the mine workers during the current year have created menacing instability in the mining industry," his proclamation to his United Mine Workers (Ind.) said.

"Results are apparent in more-than-adequate tonnage for the domestic and export market; irregular and broken working time affecting some hundreds of thousands of men, while other mines work steadily; economic inequities affecting the mine workers; and a general condition of instability throughout the whole industry.

WOULD HURT INDUSTRY

"Inescapably, continuation of this folly will eventuate in irreparable damage to our basic industry and the national economy."

He said the shutdown will be a "stabilizing period of inaction."

The order came just as Lewis was starting crucial negotiations for a new contract with the key United States Steel Corporation at Philadelphia next Monday.

Lewis wants a shorter work week and increased royalty—at present 20 cents on every ton of coal produced—for his $100,000,000-a-year union welfare fund. The operators have indicated they want welfare fund benefits reduced, as well as elimination of contract provisos which allow Lewis to call walkouts such as today's almost at will.

There was no immediate comment from the coal industry on Lewis' order today for a week's shutdown.

Fire Wipes Out Last Willows Building

—Colonist Photo

Smoking embers pictured here are all that remain of the last Willows Fairground building after it was swept by flames yesterday morning. Fire beat demolition crews to the job by a matter of days. The building was vacated by the Victoria Riding Academy last week. Oak Bay firemen say blaze started from sparks from rubbish fires set by demolition crew. It was last of a spectacular series of fires that have plagued the Fairground since 1907. Fire broke out yesterday at 9:35 a.m. and had destroyed the tinder-dry building within 20 minutes. C.S.U. Strike Declared Illegal By B.C. Jurist

Justice Manson Refuses to Lift Anti-Picketing Injunction

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—The strike of the Canadian Seamen's Union today was ruled illegal by the British Columbia Supreme Court.

The ruling was made by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson who found that all contract relations between the C.S.U. and Eastern shipowners were ended before the strike was called.

He refused to lift an anti-picketing injunction on the strike-bound freighter Ss. Seaboard Star now at West Indies Dock in North Vancouver.

"Those who would strike must have a status upon which to found a strike," he said. "In my view, no such status existed here."

SAID IN CONTEMPT

Mr. Justice Manson said some circulars distributed by the C.S.U. were in contempt of court, but he declined to send James Thompson, C.S.U. vice-president, to jail for contempt.

"The conduct of the C.S.U. constitutes a common-law nuisance. It is trying to further the strike by misleading, that is, untruthful publicity."

The C.S.U. had sought to set aside an injunction barring picketing of the Ss. Seaboard Star.

Mr. Justice Manson ordered the injunction continued until trial of action, probably in September.

"Peaceful picketing is no more capable of real existence than would be peaceful war on unoppressive oppression," he said.

"Lockouts and strikes are both forms of warfare and neither are compatible with the good old British way of taking disputes to the courts . . ."

The shipping companies accepted the Conciliation Board's recommendations, but the C.S.U. rejected them.

The companies then signed a contract with the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

Mr. Justice Manson declared the true purpose of the strike was to compel owners to abandon the S.I.U. contract.

INTIMIDATION SEEN

"The picketing here, I am satisfied, was calculated to intimidate the officers and crew of the Ss. Seaboard Star and others who had lawful business with the ship.

"It is inconceivable that a strike so-called should be permitted to tie up a substantial portion of the shipping of the country, despite the termination of the relationship of the shipping companies and their employees."

Early in the strike, 19 crew members were arrested and charged with contempt. Five were found innocent and the others were convicted, but discharged with a warning.

Begin Today On Floor Of Arena

It is expected workmen will begin pouring the concrete floor of the Memorial Arena about noon today, Walter Luney, of Luney Bros. & Hamilton, advised last night.

He said C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, had given him the go-ahead signal late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hamilton discovered Tuesday levels of refrigeration pipes were not level and immediately halted work on the floor. Following his collapse at the arena Tuesday, Mr. Hamilton spent nearly the entire day yesterday supervising and checking the work of leveling the pipes.

Arena committee members attributed Mr. Hamilton's illness to anxiety over problems he faces in regard to arena construction.

Smash Ring Of Smugglers

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 8 (CP).—Newfoundland Rangers and R.C.M.P. tonight reported the smashing of a "well-planned smuggling ring" on the islands of St. Pierre et Miquelon.

In surprise raids today, they seized 389 bottles of liquor and 10,000 cigarettes aboard one ship and at Point Crewe dug up another 13 bottles of liquor buried in the beach.

The Rangers and R.C.M.P. said the search for contraband is continuing.

They learned that a boat had left a small South Coast port for St. Pierre and sprang their trap when the ship was returning.

Police did not name the owner of the boat or say whether any arrests had been made immediately.

Four Soviet Officers Drive Out Strikers

BERLIN, June 9 (Thursday) (AP).—Four angry Russian officers last night drove out a mob of railway strikers who had smashed their way to the headquarters of the Russian-controlled railway in the United States sector of Berlin.

The officers beat at the leaders of the mob of 200 strikers with their bare hands and shouted "raus, raus (out, out)."

Driven by the Russians to the ground floor of the five-story building, the strikers were directed by newly-arrived West Berlin police to leave.

"The United States military government does not want you here," the strikers were told.

One Soviet lieutenant pulled out a small black pistol from his holster. But instead of using it he struck a striker on the back of the neck with his fist. The German fell down a flight of stairs.

The Russians arrived at the building a little more than an hour after the strikers had stormed it. The strike leader, a pink-cheeked youth who wore four pistols strapped to his body, had disarmed two Soviet-sector German police guards.

The officers marched tight-lipped to the upper floors where the mob was combing dark rooms for the Soviet-appointed railway officials believed hiding there.

When the Russians saw the Germans tearing down pictures of Prime Minister Stalin and Lenin from the walls their anger exploded.

They shouted "raus, raus," and struck out at all Germans within reach.

The mob fell back in frightened disorder.

Arrest Legal Says Britain

LONDON, June 9 (Thursday) (AP).—Britain today told Poland the arrest of Communist Gerhart Eisler aboard a Polish ship in British waters was legal.

At the same time, Britain protested against the refusal of Polish authorities aboard the ship, the Batory, to surrender Eisler voluntarily.

See Threat Of Strike Over Today

Fears of a transportation tie-up through a transit workers' strike in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, may be definitely ended today.

Yesterday the transit men in the three cities voted on the proposed new agreement with the B.C. Electric Railway Company giving them a 40-hour week by February 16 of next year, with no loss of take-home pay.

Results of the voting will be announced by officials of the Street Railwaymen's Union as soon as the secret ballot is counted.

ADVISED ACCEPTANCE

The union's advisory council has recommended acceptance of the new agreement.

Previously, the 3,000 transportation workers involved in the wages and hours dispute had turned down a conciliation board majority recommendation for a 40-hour week by July 15, 1950, with no change on take-home pay.

Originally they had demanded an immediate 40-hour week and an 8½ cents an hour raise in wages and had voted to strike in support of this demand.

Bus and street-car operators now receive $1.10 an hour or $50.80 for a 46-hour week.

TORONTO, June 8 (CP).—Severe frosts reported during Tuesday night brought further damage to Ontario crops as the drought passed its 14th day and temperatures took a nosedive. Farmers in the Caledon area were hardest hit by the frost.

Robeson Cheered

MOSCOW, June 8 (AP). — Paul Robeson received an ovation tonight when he gave his first post-war concert in Moscow. The American singer was applauded as he stepped on the stage and said, "You know how I feel to be back again on Soviet soil."

Radar Planned

HALIFAX, June 8 (CP).—A Transport Department official said today Canada's East Coast marine radio system soon may be supplemented by several radar installations.

Attlee Warns Dockers To End Ship Tie-Up

By The Canadian Press

Sympathetic walkouts by British stevedores continued yesterday to point up the Canadian Seamen Union's strike and brought a sharp warning from Prime Minister Attlee in London.

Nearly 12,000 dock workers in Liverpool, Bristol and Avonmouth have refused to load or unload Canadian freighters idle because of the C.S.U. strike or manned by the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

In appealing to the stevedores to end their walkouts, Prime Minister Attlee told them unless cargoes are handled without delay, the Government will step in. He did not say what action would be taken but warned that "we cannot allow food supplies to be endangered."

At Bristol and Avonmouth, neighboring ports, 2,000 stevedores yesterday refused to load a cargo of British automobiles aboard the Montreal City. Three weeks ago the dock workers refused to unload a cargo of grain and miscellaneous goods from the same ship and soldiers were used. The stevedores have also refused to handle other ships in the ports.

At Liverpool, nearly 8,500 dock workers have refused to load or unload about 50 ships waiting in the port.

Britain Reported Ready To Drop Trade Barriers

LONDON, June 9 (Thursday) (CP).—The Times of London says today proposals to "liberalize" European trade were discussed at a meeting last week of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation in Paris.

Details of the proposal were unavailable but they were said to be concerned with removal of import quotas and otehr quantitative restrictions, The Times says in its financial columns.

NEW YORK, June 9 (Thursday) (CP).—The New York Times says today the British Government is prepared for the first time since the war to take a "significant step away from strict bilateralism" in foreign trade.

In a dispatch from London, The Times says Britain would substitute "open general licences" applying to all countries participating in the European Recovery Program, in place of the quotas which now apply to each country separately.

OPEN TO COMPETITION

Under the proposed system, The Times says, "the British market would in effect become open to competition from other participating countries."

The Times says the proposals were first put forward by the British delegation to the Organization for European Economic Co-operation in Paris. The proposals, it adds, involve removing entirely among some or all E.R.P. countries, quantitative restrictions on imports of agreed lists of items.

$90,000 Grant Given U.B.C.

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP). — A grant of $90,000 by the Rockefeller Foundation of New York to the University of British Columbia Slavonic studies department was announced tonight by university officials.

Largest ever received by the university, the grant will be for a five-year development program of the three-year-old department.

Dr. James St. Clair-Sobell, head of the department, called the grant "an encouraging recognition of the increasing need today for knowledge of all aspects of the world of the Slavonic peoples."

All but $27,000 will be used to increase the teaching staff. Two professors—a specialist in Russian literature and a political economist—will join the staff next Fall.

It is hoped to add two more professors in 1950 and 1951.

Additions to the library will take up $20,000.

City's Margarine Prices Show Three-Cent Drop

Prices of all three brands of margarine sold in Victoria dropped three cents yesterday.

Top-priced brand dropped to 34 cents wholesale. Adding the mark-up, which is pegged at five cents by "gentlemen's agreement," this brought the top retail price to 39 cents.

The two other brands dropped to 32 cents wholesale and 37 cents retail.

Wholesalers and manufacturers' agents said the demand for margarine has levelled off after the earlier rush. It remains high, however. Some wholesalers attributed yesterday's decrease to a drop in the price of the oils from which margarine is made.

Two wholesalers said butter sales have dropped 25 per cent since the introduction of margarine.

First-grade butter price remained steady at 60½ to 61, with retail prices ranging from 62 to 65.

Butter price descended to 49 cents during a recent "price war" between two stores at Lake Cowichan, it was reported.

Wholesale price of eggs rose one cent Tuesday to 51 cents for Grade A large, 49 for medium and 47 for pullets.

Doukhobors To Face Trial

NELSON, B.C., June 8 (CP).—Pete Swetlishoff, Mike Berisenkoff and Alex Detchkoff were committed to trial today on charges of setting fire to the newly-built school at Tarrys, April 24.

Statements made to Inspector R. S. Nelson of the Provincial Police in connection with the fire were entered as exhibits over objections of Defence Counsel R. B. Allan, who said it had not been proven the statements were voluntary.

Pamphlets Give Hope to Lost Man

Mrs. Theresa Ulmer reads one of 20,000 pamphlets dropped by the R.C.A.F. over the wilderness coast of Graham Island in the Queen Charlottes, 450 miles north of Vancouver, where her son, Martin, 26, has been missing 16 days. They contain a message of hope that searchers are looking for him and urging him not "to give up." His companion, Bob Tasker, reached safety eight days after becoming separated from Ulmer, and is aiding in the search. Search headquarters held conference yesterday and Air Force officials said the R.C.A.F. Canso participating in search will likely be recalled today. Ground parties will continue to hunt.

Epidemic Hits Many Pupils At Alberni

ALBERNI, B.C., June 8.—A serious epidemic has stricken over 30 per cent of the pupils attending the Alberni elementary school here.

Diagnosis shows a gastro-intestinal condition accompanied by sharp pain. The attacks are short and recurrent. The illness has been confined mostly to young people.

Wednesday morning one-third of the school children were absent and more were forced to leave during the afternoon.

Dr. N. H. Beattie of the Central Island Health Unit, Nanaimo, is investigating the strange ailment.

SUSPECT WATER

The local water supply is suspected to be the cause of the sickness and a warning has been given by B. Wakelyn, sanitary inspector with the health unit, that all water must be boiled before being used.

Samples of the water have been sent out for examination, but reports will not be available for two or three days.

All necessary steps are being taken to trace the source or cause of the ailment and the school will be closed today, it is reported.

There have been no deaths reported, but authorities view the situation as serious.

Heads Society

Dr. J. A. Pearce, above, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here, was elected president of the Royal Society of Canada at the closing session of the society's annual meeting in Halifax yesterday.

Say Wreckage Old Plane Hulk

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 8 (CP).—Wreckage of a Canadian plane spotted on the West Coast of Vancouver Island tonight was identified by the Royal Canadian Air Force here as an old hulk.

They said it's the shell of a Liberator that crashed June 15, 1945, killing 15—including several Women's Army Corps members. Valued instruments were salvaged from the wreck a few years ago.

First reports of the wreckage came from a U.S. pilot stationed at McChord Field, Wash. He said he believed it was a long-missing U.S. Navy plane.

The R.C.A.F. dispelled the report, however, and said it is one of several hulks scattered throughout the province. The wild terrain, they said, prevents them from being dragged out.

Russia Pays High Price For 'Radio War' Victory

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP).—Russia apparently has won the first major stage in its "radio war" with Britain and the United States. The Soviets have paid a stiff price for the victory.

State Department officials said today Russian jamming now is so intense that British and American official news broadcasts are able to pierce the screen of interference "only in spots."

However, to impose the blackout of the "Voice of America" and the B.B.C. programs, the Russians have had to triple the number of stations devoted to the campaign, bringing the total to an estimated 205.

HITS OWN PROGRAMS

Officials said this has crippled "substantially" Moscow's own domestic programs and has reduced the flood of Soviet propaganda to foreign listeners.

Also, by shifting B.B.C. and "Voice" radio channels in close to Soviet broadcast frequencies, the Western countries have, in effect, forced the Russians to jam some of their own programs.

Both the State Department and the B.B.C. are trying out new tricks in the conflict, which is without peacetime precedent. Officials predict that ultimately more powerful equipment and new techniques will defeat the effort to keep the Russian people from listening to broadcasts not made in Moscow.

SOVIET STRATEGY

Moscow opened the wholesale jamming campaign April 25, almost at the moment it agreed to lift the Berlin blockade. Since then, officials have become convinced that the radio interference is a major strategic move by Moscow.

Russia has continued the jamming despite both direct official complaints and a formal protest filed by the State Department last April 30 with the International Telecommunications Union at Geneva. This charged "complete violation" of international regulations.

Seeking Nurse To Save Twins

REGINA, June 8 (CP).—The lives of premature twins born at Oxbow, Sask., may depend on the Red Cross finding a registered nurse to care for them.

F. W. G. Miles provincial commissioner for the Red Cross, said today he was considering an emergency radio appeal for help. The society has canvassed all the larger centres of Southern Saskatchewan but no available nurse was found.

The twins, born May 23 to Mr. and Mrs. E. Holtz of Oxbow, require full-time attention. Their incubator must be kept under constant surveillance and the infants must be fed with an eye-dropper every 20 minutes.

Only one nurse is employed at the Oxbow Hospital and it is impossible for her to give the twins the attention they need.

Mr. Miles said the Red Cross will pay salary and all expenses for a registered nurse.

Italy's Police Draw No Cheers

Central Press Canadian

Celebrating third anniversary of founding of Italian Republic, Italian Government sponsored parades all over Italy, but none quite as impressive as Rome parade. For most part, military equipment consisted of well-kept, freshly-painted Allied surplus. Sherman tanks, sporting clean guns and fresh coat of green paint, are shown advancing up avenue. Half persons participating were police, and while regular Italian Army members were greeted with scattered applause, police members were greeted by silence all along line of march.

Declares Television Most Effective As Means of Mass Communication

ST. ANDREWS-BY-THE-SEA, N.B., June 8 (CP).—Television was described today as a great new industrial giant which will virtually revolutionize Canadian life socially and economically.

Seven speakers told of its progress, problems and challenges to two meetings of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association which Chairman L. L. Anthes of Toronto described as the most important C.M.A. sessions he has attended in more than 40 years.

They presented television as the biggest peacetime happening and opportunity since introduction of the motor car in terms of jobs, wages, increased standards of living and busy factories.

The manufacturers were also told that it will require co-operation of Government, private stations and industry to make it a great Canadian achievement; though there were apparent differences of opinion on immediate procedure.

F. R. Deakins of Montreal (R.C.A. Victor) said that based on indications in the United States, Canada should within a few years require 250,000 television sets annually, worth $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 a year. As to its effect on other industries, he added:

"It would require 2,200,000 pounds annually in copper and wire connectors; 1,000,000 pounds of aluminum fabricated in various shapes and sizes; 4,000,000 pounds of glass in bulbs; 5,000,000 board feet of lumber; also solder, insulating materials and many thousands of hours of skilled labor.

VIVID COMMUNICATION

A. D. Dunton, chairman of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, described television as "probably the most vivid and effective means of mass communication yet devised by man. A medium as important as television has to be thought of in national terms."

S. M. Finlayson of Montreal (Canadian Marconi Co. Ltd.), stated in his address:

"So far applications for television licences have come mainly from radio stations, newspepers, and the radio manufacturing industry. They have given much thought to that portion of announced Government policy which calls for these interests to merge on a regional basis.

NOT IN PUBLIC INTEREST

"All are very desirous of the fullest possible collaboration to avoid waste and overlapping in the initial stages, and, thereby, to increase the value of their contribution. However, all appear to have come to the conclusion that such an arrangement is impractical and not in the public interest.

"One suggestion that might be put forward is that as the private applicants who have so far come forward are located in Montreal, Toronto and Western Ontario, licences should be granted to them to initiate and develop program services in those areas, while the publicly-owned body would devote its resources to the initial development in other centres such as, say Halifax, Vancouver, Winnipeg.

"If some such plan can be started upon this Summer, then television can begin to become available to the people of many parts of Canada some time in the latter part of 1950."

Asks Deadline For Settling Berlin Tie-Up

PARIS, June 8 (AP).—State Secretary Acheson demanded tonight that the Big Four Powers set a five-day deadline for their Berlin commanders to try to settle the city's trade and communication tie-up.

He proposed that the commanders report by June 13. Presumably if they are not able to reach an agreement the Foreign Ministers will then tackle the problem.

Acheson advanced the idea at the end of another fruitless session today—the 15th of the Paris Conference—and it will be considered by the Foreign Ministers tomorrow.

Unable to agree on a long-term plan for Germany, it appears the Foreign Ministers are turning to efforts to bring at least a temporary armistice to East-West contention in the Four-Power city.

STEP BACKWARD

This in reality would be a diplomatic step backward. The Four-Powers were supposed already to have agreed in New York last month to end the Berlin blockade and resume East-West German trade.

Actually, however, the New York agreement has been only partly carried out. Berlin still is under a semi-blockade because of a rail strike by non-Communist railway workers in Berlin.

However, Western negotiators in Berlin have reported the Russians co-operative in talks on an agreement on East-West trade. But the West has taken the position that no trade agreement will be signed as long as the strike lasts. The Western attitude is that the strike has to be settled to assure movement of trade under a paper agreement.

An indication of the conference's declining tempo was the departure of Foreign Secretary Bevin for home to attend the British Labor party's annual conference. He will return tomorrow. Lord Henderson, undersecretary of state for German affairs, sat in for him today.

Chambers Again Asserts Hiss Gave Reds Secrets

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP).—Five persons including Alger Hiss and Julian Wadleigh gave Government secrets to a prewar Soviet spy ring, Whittaker Chambers testified today.

As he had done before, Chambers named Hiss and Wadleigh as sources of State Department secrets.

He did not name the other sources from which he said he received documents when he was a spy ring courier. It was the sixth days of Hiss' Federal perjury trial.

DENIES TESTIMONY

Hiss has denied he ever gave Government papers to Chambers or that he even saw Chambers after January 1, 1937. For saying this before a New York Grand Jury last December, he was indicted on a perjury charge.

Henry Julian Wadleigh, formerly of the State Department, has declined comment of Chambers' statements since they originally were made last year.

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

Chambers is the Government's star witness against Hiss. The Government said at the outset that its case against Hiss rests on his charges.

The witness again today told of approaching A. A. Berle, former assistant secretary of state, in 1939. Chambers says he had broken with Communism by that time and wanted to warn the Government against it.

"I told Mr. Berle that Alger Hiss was a Communist and he had been a member of the underground apparatus which included certain other people whose names I also told him," Chambers said.

SAID NOTES TAKEN

Berle took notes during this conference in Berle's Washington home, Chambers recalled.

"Did you ever hear from Mr. Berle after that?" Murphy asked.

"I do not believe so," was Chambers' reply.

Berle has said he recalls the meeting but that Chambers did not give him the details at that time which he later gave to Congressional and grand jury investigators.

Fire Damages New Tacoma Bridge Tower

TACOMA, Wash., June 8 (AP).—Explosions and fire early today seriously damaged a 502-foot tower nearing completion for a new suspension bridge across Tacoma Narrows.

Damage to the west tower on the "jinxed" highway crossing from Tacoma to the Olympic Peninsula was estimated at $400,000 or more.

Exploding oil and gasoline drums and leaping flames were heard and seen for many miles around. The fire consumed building scaffolds up to the top of the steel and concrete structure.

MAY MEAN DELAY

Tom Martinsen, resident engineer for the Bethlehem Pacific Steel Construction Company, said that if the intense heat buckled the lower steel sections the entire tower might have to be rebuilt.

The $13,000,000 span is to replace the original bridge which toppled into the narrow during a storm November 7, 1940. A saddle was knocked off the east tower in a recent earthquake.

Martinsen said the fire may cause several months' delay in finishing the bridge.

Construction men said the cause may have been a hot rivet dropped into a creosote-soaked fibre mat at the tower's base.

Labor Cheers Bevan Attack On Capitalism

BLACKPOOL, England, June 8 (CP).—In a sardonic speech criticizing the "poisonous psychology" of capitalism, Health Minister Aneurin Bevan today kindled the first flush of real campaigning fervor at the Labor party's annual conference.

Replying to a debate on nationalized industries, Bevan said early mistakes are natural in state-owned undertakings. The triumph of Socialism was that such mistakes were publicly discussed.

RELIGION IN PLANNING

In reference to the spiritual approach to Socialism, he brought the 1,400 delegates to their feet cheering with the statement that religion is rooted in national planning.

"What is national planning," he asked, "but insistence that human beings shall make their ethical choices on a national scale?"

Socialism was using economic planning to serve a moral purpose. Its supporters should not bow their heads to critics—"we should raise our heads and look to the stars."

BEST RECEIVED SPEECH

Bevan's was the best-received speech to date at the five-day convention. It came after perfunctory applause for a steady stream of rank-and-file speakers, most of whom found fault with the new State industries.

At the morning session, Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister, said the next general election will be "the fight of our lives if we are going to win" state industries.
Party had formed with the trade unions and the Labor Party the "Great Trinity" of the people's movement.

COUNTRY'S BUSINESS

Morrison, the party's main strategist, said private industry can no longer be allowed to go just its own way. All business—private or Socialist—was the country's business. Private industry or finance which indulged in anti-social conduct would be pulled up "short and sharp."

He promised that if Labor retains power in the next Parliament more time will be available to debate and review the reports of nationalized industry.

Resigns Position

REGINA, June 8 (CP).—Resignation from the Saskatchewan Legislature of W. J. Patterson, member for Cannington and former Liberal Premier of the province, has been received by the Provincial Government, Acting Premier J. W. Corman announced today. Mr. Patterson has been appointed to the Federal Board of Transport Commissioners.

Salvage King Reaches Tender

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—Reports reaching Vancouver tonight say the Victoria tug Salvage King has reached the damaged lighthouse tender Alberni up-coast at Safety Cove. The 187-foot tender is now afloat and is being patched.

The Salvage King started for the scene Monday when the 502-ton Alberni grounded on Canoe Rocks and was later beached at Safety Cove. None of the tender's 27-man crew was injured.

When ready, the Alberni will be towed to Prince Rupert.

Top picture shows portion of large crowd that witnessed sod-turning ceremony at site of new Topaz Junior High School yesterday. Work on estimated $828,600 project is expected to start shortly and will be completed in time for September school opening in 1950. R. H. Green, chairman of Greater Victoria School Board, officiated at ceremony. Bottom picture shows Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, former school trustee for Oak Bay, and an active school worker, turning first sod at site of new View Royal School on Helmcken Road. W. P. Jeune, chairman of education committee of Greater Victoria School Board, and Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, president of Victoria and District Parent-Teachers Council, look on. Sylvia Barrett, aged five, one of future pupils at school, is another interested spectator.

Ignorance, Fear Held Public Enemy Number One

The world's "public enemy number one" is not a nation, a religion or a political creed, but combined ignorance and fear.

This was the message brought by A. G. Brine, New Westminster, newly-elected vice-president of British Columbia Municipal Officers' Association, at a wind-up dinner of the association's annual conference at the Empress Hotel last night.

He was proposing a toast to the Provincial Government, host to a record 78 municipal officers at the two-day conference.

J. V. Fisher, deputy minister of finance, warned that an "irresponsible" financial policy in one municipality would damage the credit of others.

BASIS OF GROWTH

British Columbia's growth, from a population of 36,000 at the time of entry into Confederation to well over 1,000,000, could have been achieved only by "a population fired with ambition, vision and self-reliance and a progressive and sound good government."

Only one-half of 1 per cent of the province's 366,000 square miles are under municipal government, but this area contains 70 per cent of the population, Mr. Fisher said.

"Our natural resources, bountiful as they may be, are not inexhaustible, and it's our duty and our interest to preserve them," he warned.

F. L. Kitto, Port Alberni city clerk, and newly-elected president of the association, looked forward to an attendance of 100 next year.

E. W. Griffith, deputy minister of welfare, proposed the toast to the association, and Mr. Kitto replied. Acting Mayor D. D. McTavish of Victoria proposed the toast to the visitors, and C. E. Brannan, Kelowna, replied. D. Johnston, Salmon Arm, proposed the toast to the ladies; Miss M. L. McPhee, clerk of Dawson Creek, responded. Toast to the press was proposed by A. W. Robinson of Campbell River, and responded to by G. E. Mortimore of The Daily Colonist.

Toastmaster was B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs.

H. H. Dunn and L. F. Dunn sang and presented skits. Mrs. Doreen Smith was at the piano.

Earlier, Mr. Bracewell warned officials at the afternoon session that they must act as "watchdogs" over municipal spending.

Rising age of the population creates a superannuation problem, said R. A. Pennington, superannuation commissioner. Man's life span has risen in 3,000 years from 25 to 67. British Columbia has 9.9 per cent of its population over 65, compared with 7.5 for the Dominion.

LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

Life memberships were presented to R. F. Blandy, retired Oak Bay municipal clerk, who is now assessor; J. O. Farmer, retired Surrey clerk; G. H. Dunn, Kelowna; and F. W. Tull, Courtenay, who was absent.

VESSEL SINKS

Three crew members of the 16-ton dragger Annie and Ruth rowed ashore yesterday after their vessel sank about six miles off Digby, N.S. The dragger was bound for the Fundy scallop grounds when her stuffing box broke open and the hold began to fill with water, a report said.

FIRE HALL FOR SALE

The old Duchess Street fire hall was ordered to be placed on the market for sale by City Council on Tuesday.

The city has used the building as a warehouse for the past several years. Recently Mayor George recommended the building be either sold or demolished. He said it could become a centre of corruption.

The lands committee recommended sale of the building and land. Advertisments to this effect will be placed in the newspapers.

Council made its decision Tuesday against the wishes of Alderman Harold Diggon. He asked council to delay its decision until he had an opportunity to investigate. He was out of the city when the mayor made his recommendation.

Fire Clears Last Building From Willows Fair Grounds

The last remaining building on the Willows Fair Grounds sank to the ground in roaring flames yesterday morning ending a weird chapter of fires that jinxed the fair since as early as 1907.

It was Carley's Barn, vacated only a week ago by the Victoria Riding Academy. Flames that levelled the structure to its charred foundations only beat a demolition crew to the job by a matter of days, Oak Bay fire officials said.

The firefighters added that the blaze was almost unique in Willows fiery history because there was no mystery surrounding the cause of the fire.

The barn was ignited by sparks from nearby rubbish fires lit by demolition crews who were mopping up the second-to-last building on the grounds before tackling the tinder-dry riding academy, firemen said.

BURNED DOWN RAPIDLY

They added the barn was hopelessly engulfed in flames by the time firefighting apparatus arrived at 9:35 a.m. and had burned to the ground in 30 minutes. Firemen directed their efforts to watering nearby homes to keep flames from spreading to them.

The Willow's first major fire struck in 1907, a few months after citizens had enthusiastically passed a $50,000 by-law to expand the fair facilities. Everything but the grandstands and stock sheds was destroyed.

But the series of strange fires began in the past decade when after inexplicable minor fires the goat building was partially destroyed in 1942.

The next year a minor fire damaged another building and in 1944 a spectacular $104,919 blaze demolished Victoria's new sports centre and arena.

Then the main building went up in flames in April, 1946, part of the women's building followed in April, 1947, and in September, last year, the goat building caught fire again and that time was destroyed.

MYSTERIOUS BLAZES

Mystery surrounded the origin of many of the blazes and fire marshal's investigations showed that some of them, last year's goat building fire among them, was set by incendiarists.

Other attempts at deliberately firing the buildings had been nipped in the bud by speedy action of the Oak Bay fire department in the same year.

The fair grounds were recently bought from S. W. Randall by the Oak Bay Municipality which stipulated all structures must be removed by June to comply with the sale agreement.

With yesterday's fire Willows Park is now completely cleared in preparation for its subdivision as a residential area.

Removal of a large tree at the corner of Battery and Olympia Streets was requested by George Dyke, 40 Olympia Street, in a letter to City Council yesterday.

Mr. Dyke said the tip of the tree now rested on the top of an adjacent telephone pole. He advised cutting down the entire tree or rmoval of "six or eight feet" from the top.

Trees up and down the street "are getting too big," complained Mr. Dyke.

He asked the city to remove gravel from the side of the road along Battery Street.

E. A. Black and A. F. Gosse, residents of Summit Avenue, complained to city officials yesterday that they were being isolated by bad road conditions.

Crown Properties Should Pay Their Share

NOWHERE in Canada has the loss of revenue through exemption of Crown property from local taxes created a more serious problem than in Esquimalt and Victoria. It must be encouraging for the councils of the two municipalities, therefore, to know that the full weight of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities is behind a new movement to obtain redress.

Esquimalt in particular affords a striking example of the inequity of the present system. Here is a small municipality with limited revenue sources containing large defence installations occupying some of its most valuable land. Not only is the municipality deprived of the taxes that would accrue to it if the land were available for residential and industrial use but also it must construct and maintain the network of roads and all the other facilities serving the defences. These installations are for the protection of Canada as a whole, and the cost of services should be borne by Canadians as a whole.

Similarly, the City of Victoria is losing thousands of dollars annually through the exemption from taxation of provincial and Federal property, serviced at the expense of the city taxpayer. Victoria, it is true, derives certain benefits from being the seat of Provincial Government, but they fail to offset such a serious loss of revenue. The Goldenberg Commission, appointed by the Provincial Government, saw the inequity of this and recommended compensation that the Government has not yet seen fit to provide.

Federally and provincially, the matter is one that should have been corrected long ago. In determining to obtain relief, however, the Federation should remember that it is powerless to proceed without Crown fiat, and that may not be easy to secure.

It Was Built as a Shipping Elevator

LOST in the mists of past misadventure as another relic of public haste and waste, the city's grain elevator at Ogden Point will now be leased to a Portland, Oregon, firm which plans to use it as a terminal storage unit in connection with export grain. Although the rental involved is nominal and the lease a short-term one, there are many who will watch the result of this development with interest.

The Ogden Point elevator was built with a genuine purpose in mind. A modern, electrified and well-designed structure with a maximum storage capacity of 1,500,000 bushels, the elevator was originally intended to serve an active grain export market at the confluence of Canadian and American outbound shipping lanes. Part cargoes of grain were used by Steamship lines in those days to top-off their outgoing cargoes of lumber, machinery and other products. The ships were lined to handle grain in bulk, and both Seattle and Vancouver were doing a brisk business in the trade.

While a change in the economic weather, the failure of the original plan to carry through, and some other factors at the time, robbed Victoria of any benefit from the venture, the basic reason behind construction of export grain elevators on this coast has not disappeared. Depending upon shipping, export markets and the rate of turn-over with which such elevators can be operated, there may still be a trade to be rebuilt in this way. If the lessees intend to operate a shipping elevator, and not use it merely for storage, this development could mean much to the port.

State Control Is a Dangerous Path to Tread

ONCE set on the road to totalitarianism it is difficult to turn back, even if one wished. There is no indication that the British Labor Party has any desire to curb its headlong plunge into statism, but instead plain, unmistakable notice has been given by its Deputy Prime Minister, Mr. Herbert Morrison, of what will follow a return to power of the present Socialist Government of the United Kingdom. The bonds of regimentation will be tightened.

The clock will be turned back by fastening on private industry permanently—that is the word he used—the wartime controls that are due to expire next year and which were granted originally only because of the dire emergency of war. More and more also, as Mr. Morrison made clear, will his Government invade the legitimate fields of individual initiative and enterprise. Nationalization of at least half a dozen other industries will take place should the next election end in its favor. The state will become the all-consuming arbiter of business and personal destiny.

There is nothing in this to cheer the heart of any intelligent person free from the fervor that blinds socialist advocates to the realities of state control. There is, however, a warning to Canadians against entrusting their affairs to any regime pledged in advance to nationalization and its attendant bondage. Once begun, a program of statism can end in only one way, an increasing totalitarianism which not only robs the individual of his rights but also does not offer any surcease from economic difficulty in return. The United Kingdom is sometimes cited as an example to follow, but in this connection Canadians would be well advised to turn their backs on those who would fasten similar controls on this country.

INDIAN CASES

Sir,—Is it wise to record the nationality of offenders?

Particularly noticeable is the fact that when a native Indian is so unfortunate as to be brought into court, nationality is almost invariably stressed. This is a reflection upon the well-behaved and law-abiding members of the native race which cannot be tolerated with patience by their many friends, who feel that this publicity is unjust discrimination and serves no useful purpose.

If it is allowed to persist there may one day be a demand that the same treatment be accorded the English, Scottish, Irish, German, Italian, Scandinavian, and other citizens who occasionally run afoul of the law.

Your attention to this matter is requested by the Executive Council of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society.

SARAH L. FOSBERY (Treasurer).
451 Walter Avenue, Victoria, B.C.

Editor's Note: In many instances these are cases tried under special law, applicable to native tribesmen only. Not to say so would be to misrepresent the facts.

SWEEPSTAKES

Sir,—It seems to me that vast sums of money are being sent out of Canada to other countries for the purchase of sweepstake and lottery tickets, and a great percentage of these could be kept in our country for the benefit of hospitals and social services if a good honest government-controlled sweepstake was put in operation. If any of the major parties in the coming Federal election would put a plank in their platform supporting such a move, I venture to say that they would have a good chance of being elected, and provincially the sales tax could be eliminated. I do hope that the resolution passed at the veterans' convention will have some effect.

A. R. IKIN.

930 Lodge Avenue, Victoria, B.C.

PRONUNCIATION

Sir,—Dr. D. C. Williams, in his "Better English" in Friday's Daily Colonist is unfortunate in regard to the word "herb." The Encyclopædia Dictionary (which was the standard English dictionary until the New Oxford was published), together with several older dictionaries, gives the pronunciation as herb, not erb or erby, and even in Webster's (American) it is optional.

This word is of Latin derivation, introduced into English from the French "herbe," and the pronunciation erb is, of course, French, the "h" being generally silent in that language. Since, however, the second "e" was dropped in English centuries ago (even in old English "herby" was used) thus Anglicizing the word, it is inconsistent to retain the French pronunciation, especially as it is so unpleasing to English ears. I am aware that a few individuals have persisted in using the French, but the reason is difficult to understand, since our dictionaries made the obvious change more than a century ago. Many of our radio announcers are, in any case, having grave difficulty with their pronunciation, let Mr. Williams not add to their confusion.

From "The Prisoner of Chillon"

What next befell me then and there
I know not well—I never knew:
First came the loss of light, and air,—
And then of darkness too.
I had no thought, no feeling—none;
Among the stones I stood a stone,
And was, scarce conscious what I wist,
As shrubless crags within the mist;
For all was blank, and bleak, and gray:
It was not night, it was not day;
It was not even the dungeon-light,
So hateful to my heavy sight;
But vacancy absorbing space,
And fixedness without a place.
There were no stars, no earth, no time,
No check, no change, no good, no crime,—
But silence, and a stirless breath
Which neither was of life nor death:
A sea of stagnant idleness,
Blind, boundless, mute, and motionless! . . .

Thinker . . . By HERBLOCK

Thinking Aloud

". . . of thrones—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

I AM looking at two small objects centred in the palm of my hand, a little plastic elephant that could stand on a dime, and an equally minute ivory owl.

Should I throw them away?

That is my problem. They have reposed quietly in my pocket for many moons, as Fenimore Cooper's redmen were wont to say. By the nuances of illogical thought they have become encrusted with magic.

They are, in short, lucky charms.

At least until the other day I fancied they might be. Now, however, the whole superstitious applecart has been upset by that inconsiderate fellow who walked into a Mount Newton swamp and picked up four-leaf clovers by the dozen.

He has completely debunked a legend that made simpletons of us all, and I don't know whether to be glad or sorry.

A book I consult occasionally so that I may pretend to an erudition I do not possess, tells me that Eve, upon her expulsion from the Garden of Eden, took a four-leaf clover with her. As a sprig of verdure from paradise, the possession of this supposedly rare emblem therefore came to be regarded as a token of good fortune.

* * *

In Eve's case I presume she was trying to retrieve her misfortune, but at any rate ever since then the happiness of millions has been balanced delicately on the duplication of that lady's preference.

Some men have spent a lifetime hunting in vain for a clover with four leaves. Others have deemed a new pair of trousers well ruined if they could come up off their knees holding this miraculous plant triumphantly aloft.

A whole seed industry has been built on the illusion. Some people plant lawns with clover in the hope they will be literally steeped in good luck—maybe.

Perhaps, of course, this is really to save water bills, since clover retains its green pigment tenaciously, but that is an unworthy thought.

I am wondering, though, if there should not be a law against ill-considerate shattering of age-old faith. In this sophisticated era he is an unworldly soul who would confess to belief in lucky charms, yet breathes there a man who never to himself has confided a secret hope in some trivial trinket.

At this very moment, for instance, there may be other Victorians gazing sadly at some article they too have carried sub rosa for many a moon.

* * *

There may be others, also, who have decided there is no longer any point in slyly walking round a ladder with a nonchalance only they think is effective. Why not, now that Eve has been discredited, simply stride boldly beneath the ladder.

I suppose that most folk who hide to their own private bosoms these small superstitions are apt to feel bereft if they hear about that Mount Newton swamp. One grows attached to fantasies of the mind, and such safeguards as spilled salt cast over the right, or is it the left, shoulder. It does not matter now in any event.

I am, nevertheless, slightly appalled at the iconoclasm of this amateur Victoria naturalist. Legend never said anything about Eve and a five, six or nine-leaf clover, but he has exploded to smithereens any hope that paradise might be regained by possession of a sprig surpassing the shamrock's trinity.

My poor little elephant and its equally disconsolate ivory owl.

But wait, while hope springs again eternal. He couldn't find an eight-leaf clover, even in this luscious Victoria swamp. Perhaps Eve doubled the ante that legend has attached to her!

Trust-Busting in Germany

By RAYMOND MOLEY

NEW YORK.—As John J. McCloy takes over from General Clay the administration of German affairs, he will find that, next to Russian relations, his biggest task will be to resolve the dispute, for the most part among Americans, about the future organization of German industry. General Clay did what he could, despite squabbling among his subordinates and vacillating policies in Washington.

Recently a committee headed by Garlan Ferguson made a report to the Secretary of the Army on the subject. It should be noted that the most active and aggressive member of this committee was a lawyer, Samuel Isseks. Apparently, Isseks's views measurably dominate the report, which generally deplored the slowness with which the deconcentration of German industry has been carried out.

There is much to be said in answer to this report, and no doubt both sides will be presented to High Commissioner McCloy.

The dispute largely arises from two factors: First, the difference in views among official Americans as to the desirability of large and small industrial units; and, second, the failure of Americans, and especially of the Ferguson committee, to distinguish between cartels and big industrial units.

The cartel is mainly a device to regulate and limit prices among competitors. It also regulates and allocates raw materials among manufacturers. And in some cases it assigns market areas. A cartel is not necessarily big. Probably four out of five German industrial associations are composed of small or medium-sized enterprises.

These cartels have been recognized and used throughout Europe for a long time. Much of Europe's effective industrial capacity is based upon them. It is difficult to see how recovery can be complete without some form of cartelization, although under military government the cartel as it was known before has become temporarily almost non-existent.

* * *

The real problem and the real objective of American reformers in Germany is not cartels but large and concentrated industry. Here again, the peculiar conditions of Germany and of Europe require large concentration in some industries. It is also apparent that among certain large industries there must be some interconnecting links. Steel, iron, coke and aniline dye production have to work closely together. The crowded Ruhr almost compels co-operation. In Germany before the war coal mining was concentrated in 12 combines. They were the most efficient in Europe.

In the electrical and chemical industries it was found necessary to develop agreements on the massing of patents. Of course, when these industries became international they wielded a good deal of power.

Our so-called "de-cartelization" officials therefore found that in attacking cartels alone they were not reaching the centre of their purpose. But their lack of intimate knowledge of German and European methods made their clumsy attack very dangerous to recovery in Germany.

It has been suggested that instead of breaking up concentrated industries, there should be instituted, possibly under old and unused laws of the Weimar Republic, strong internal regulations with overall Allied supervision. Also, that in every large corporation there be outside representatives, perhaps labor members, to guard against the misuse of power.

Certainly the recovery of Germany cannot be promoted by permitting those Americans who fear all big business to use Germany as a laboratory for their theories.

Demonstrating Conservation

(From The Toronto Globe and Mail)

A CONSERVATION exhibit is about to be constructed on a twelve-acre area in the Bronx Zoo in New York. The New York Times reports that it will show reforestation, soil reclamation, the prevention of erosion and stream control, and it will include a waterfall, marshland and fly-casting pool. The State of New York provided $275,000 of public funds to build the exhibit, and the New York Zoological Society will operate it.

Mr. Fairfield Osborn, the president of the society and the author of "Our Plundered Planet," an influential book on the need for conservation, in announcing the project spoke of its great value in teaching what conservation is. He forecast that it would be a centre of interest for large numbers of people, as well as for schools and colleges, and would be a "pilot project" for similar areas elsewhere in the nation. "There is no other such conservation demonstration anywhere else at this time," he said, very probably with perfect truth.

Such a scheme on a much larger scale, however, was precisely what was planned by the Humber Valley Conservation Authority in its proposed Conservation Park, in King Township, near Bolton. Mr. Osborn could not have made his boast if the Ontario Cabinet had not changed its policy of underwriting three-quarters of the cost of projects initiated by conservation authorities, when the Humber Authority made its application last April. As a result, options on the 1,200-acre tract expired, and much valuable preliminary work was wasted. No better form of education on both methods and results in conservation could be provided than through actual demonstration. The urgent need for public understanding and adoption of the philosophy of conservation should quicken the Government into practical measures such as the Conservation Park represented.

RECIPE

A soap opera is a kind of sandwich whose recipe is simple enough, although it took years to compound. Between thick slices of advertising, spread 12 lines of dialogue, add predicament, villainy and female suffering in equal measure, throw in a dash of nobility, sprinkle with tears, season with organ music, cover with a rich announcer sauce, and serve five times a week.—James Thurber: "The Beast in Me."

Observation Car: By G. B.

TIME is a great healer. Many have forgotten the severe Winter, which was the worst on record in some parts of North America. There has been compensation in the form of perfect Spring weather, and it is to be hoped that Summer and Autumn leave nothing to be desired. Many newcomers to the city claimed they burned [illegible] as they did on the Prairies. Few Victoria dwellings are constructed to keep out severe cold, or weeks of damp weather. Winter comfort and fuel economy can be obtained only through lined attics and walls, and double windows. . . . There is a great tendency to make rooms smaller in apartment houses. A new one under construction in the city has such tiny cubicles that neighbors promptly dubbed it "Prison Cell Mansion." . . . The City Council public works committee still seems to follow a ruling that pot holes in streets shall not be filled until they are eight inches deep. Many in Fairfield district are rapidly approaching the required depth. . . . Some form of pain killer or mass hypnosis will be required by the public when current tax bills are mailed from the City Hall. One Vancouver Street occupant of a modest dwelling figured that his taxes of $144 a year in 1940 would jump to $169.05 this year. . . . High prices for new automobiles resulted in many ancient vehicles being kept in service. Figures in The New York Times showed that 855,000 old cars had been scrapped last year, compared with an average of 1,600,000. The American Automobile Association reported 40,000,000 trouble calls, an increase of 9 per cent. A total of 1,340,000 calls came from motorists who ran out of gasoline; 8,600,000 had flat tires, and 8,000,000 experienced battery trouble.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

A PROFESSOR friend of mine has one of those enquiring minds. He is a great authority on history. But there is hardly any other subject of human interest he is not willing to explore.

One of the younger men in his department is blind. He lost his sight in the war. But he is a young man of great scholarship and brilliant promise. The way he carries on with his work is a matter of intense interest to both staff and students. He has immense courage.

The other night, the professor, having finished his work in his own office, was leaving. As he passed the library, he recollected a book he wanted. He stepped into the library and switched on the lights. There, alone, sat his young colleague, quietly reading a Braille text. He had been sitting in the dark. The professor greeted the younger man, got his book, withdrew, and, before closing the door, rather awkwardly enquired if he should turn out the light again . . .

"It doesn't matter," smiled the younger man, amiably.

As he walked across the campus, the professor was deeply moved by this curious little incident. He got to wondering how he would react to being blind. His enquiring mind began to probe and question. Have I, the professor checked, enough courage? How does it feel to be blind? Am I the man that young fellow is?

The professor took a sight ahead of him across the dark campus, with its scattered lights. He closed his eyes. He walked. With courage, he walked. He was amazed to find he was not at all disturbed to be walking blind. He increased his pace. He was bold. He went smack into a maple tree and cracked his forehead open so that it required four stitches, and for the next week he went about his duty turbanned like a Turk.

Today's Answer

Contrary to popular belief bats can see in daylight, but cannot see in the dark. Bats have a highly developed sense of hearing which they use for night flying. They emit shrill sounds too high pitched for the human ear to detect. The bat's ears pick up the reflections of these sounds from objects in the dark, and by this method locate and catch night-flying insects. This enables them to fly around at unbelievably high speeds without hitting obstacles.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—At a meeting of the Saanich Police Commission Reeve Macnicol asked that the assistance of the Provincial Police be called in to stamp out bootleg resorts in the municipality.

50 YEARS AGO—The new iron and steel bridge to span the Victoria Arm at the Gorge has arrived from Hamilton and will be erected at once, the stone piers having been completed some time ago.

85 YEARS AGO—His Excellency has appointed Surveyor-General Pemberton, Treasurer Watson and Superintendent Smith commissioners to report on the number and condition of the arms belonging to the colony.

Notables of Hollywood 'Named' as Communists

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP).—Hollywood movie stars Frederic March, Edward G. Robinson and other major figures in the West Coast film colony were named in a secret F.B.I. report today as alleged members of the Communist Party.

The report said a confidential informant told the F.B.I. that March was a "Communist Party member in 1947," and was active in "the Communist infiltration of the motion picture industry."

The F.B.I. document was read aloud, over vigorous Government objections, at the espionage trial of Judith Coplon, 28, former Justice Department analyst.

Miss Coplon is accused of filching Government secrets with intent to aid a foreign power, Russia.

"MOST ABSURD"

March, in Bryn Mawr, Pa., said by telephone to New York that the report was "the most absurd thing I've ever heard of." He said his remark "goes for me and my wife, too."

He declined further comment.

The informant also named as party members such noted actors, writers and directors as Dorothy Parker, Donald Ogden Stuart, Ruth McKinney, Alfred Maltz, Alvah Bessie, Dalton Trumbo, Millen Brand and Michael Blankfort.

Dorothy Parker, reached at her Hollywood apartment, said:

"This makes me very sick. I'm glad to be an American and always have been.

KNOWS NO RUSSIANS

"I regret to say I know no Russians, but I wish I did. Maybe it would help understanding if we all knew some Russians.

"I have no desire to sell any secrets, because I don't know any.

"Overthrow our Government?" Miss Parker laughed. "I want to overthrow prejudice and injustice."

Maltz, Trumbo and Bessie are screen writers among the so-called "unfriendly ten" cited for contempt of the House Un-American Activities Committee for refusing to answer questions on their political affiliations. They are now suing for reinstatement to studio jobs which they contend they were denied as a result of the hearing.

Oddities

ST. IVES, Cornwall, England, June 8 (AP).—Six Bibles, bought annually from funds left by a centuries-dead Puritan, were distributed Tuesday to children here.

By ancient custom, the vicar and two church wardens umpired as 12 kids vied for the good books.

They rolled dice.

MEMPHIS, June 8 (AP).—A shoe salesman administered a double pinch to his customer.

Police said the salesman became suspicious when the customer presented a $120 Government cheque to pair for a pair of shoes. So he wrapped up a smaller pair, told the customer good-bye and called police.

Officers found the cheque had been stolen. They waited in the store until the man returned to exchange the tight shoes—and pinched him.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 8 (AP).—President Truman's favorite song, "The Missouri Waltz," won't be the official song of his home state.

The Missouri Senate fixed that today by killing a bill to give the tune official standing.

The action came after opponents branded the tune "a low-rate, second-class bar-room ballad."

Vancouver Half-Day "Expensive"

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—A potential $10,000 in hard-to-get American money is burning a hole in the pockets of a group of Los Angeles businessmen here who can't spend it because of Wednesday closing.

The group, made up of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is visiting Vancouver for one day before starting a ten-day luxury cruise to Alaska.

From the feminine viewpoint Mrs. Frances Fernholtz, wife of one of the members, admitted that she was "disappointed."

Why don't they have a six-day shopping week with a five-day work week for the sales people?" she asked.

Honors List Names Two Peers

LONDON, June 9 (Thursday) (CP).—Two new peers are named and two new members appointed to the Order of Merit in the King's birthday honors list announced today in The London Gazette.

Both peerages are baronies. One goes to Film Executive George Archibald, 51, and the other to Sir Henry Bedford, 78, who has been clerk of the Parliaments. There are four appointments to the Privy Council, 37 knighthoods and pages upon pages of minor orders of chivalry.

No Canadians are mentioned in the list but several of the Britons named have Canadian associations.

ORDER OF MERIT

The King's birthday actually is December 14, but by custom the official observance is during June, when the weather normally is more favorable for outdoor ceremonies.

The distinguished philosopher, Earl Russell, better known as Bertrand Russell, is to enter the select Order of Merit, along with Sir Robert Robinson, Waynflete professor of chemistry at Oxford University and one of the world's leading organic chemists. This order is restricted to 24 members.

A specialist in documentaries, Archibald was wartime director of British film services and launched such classics as "Desert Victory," "Coastal Command" and "Next of Kin."

Sir Henry entered the Parliament office of the House of Lords in 1897 and became clerk of the Parliaments in 1934. He is an authority on book plates.

Conductor John Barbirolli, formerly with the New York Philharmonic Symphony and now director of Manchester's Halle Orchestra, and painter Oswald Birley figure among the knighthoods. Most of the other new knights are men with business and political backgrounds.

Among the high army officers honored: Gen. Sir Richard McCreery, under whom Canadians in the British Eighth Army fought over Italy's Lombardy Plains, is made a Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. Gen. Sir Sidney Kirman, who had Canadians either alongside or with his troops in Italy from Cassino to Florence and beyond, is made a Knight Commander of the same order.

Lt.-Col. Archibald Mackenzie-Kennedy, a brother of Sir Donald Mackenzie, former Governor of Mauritius Island in the Indian Ocean, who is settling this month in Vancouver, becomes a Commander of the Order of the British Empire, while Reginald Jopson, United Kingdom trade commissioner in Canada, is made a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Grave Threat Facing Crops

REGINA, June 8 (CP).—A crop invasion by many millions of grasshoppers is expected to develop this week in Saskatchewan unless 1949 summerfallows are immediately trap-stripped, W. H. Horner, Provincial field crops commissioner, warned today.

Mr. Horner described the next two weeks as "the critical period in the province's campaign against grasshoppers."

He said that while crop invasions resulting from concentrations of roadside grasshoppers are being checked in most districts, the stubble grasshoppers have not yet moved out of stubble fields in any appreciable numbers.

Congress' Reminders Approve U.S. Policies

Interpreting the News

By SIGRID ARNE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

Because the United States has been forced to take the lead in the Western world, Congress has invented an interesting new device.

Three times now Congress has voted merely to state the way the majority of the members want this nation to act in relation to other nations.

None of the three times that Congress has voted in this manner have the actual words become a law. They weren't meant to. In each case it was just Congress saying: "Look, this is the way we want world affairs to go, and this is the goal toward which we intend to work."

In the last few days 90 members of the House have proposed to use that device again. The full Congress must still approve.

Congress first used the device in 1940. France had fallen. We didn't know whether the Germans would grab Martinique and Guadeloupe—French colonies in the Caribbean—and use them against us.

So Congress decided to remind the world of the Monroe doctrine. It did by simply voting to say that we still felt the same way.

In 1943, when the Allied governments began to plan for a peace that would stop the causes of war, the Congress again announced to the world what it could expect from the American people.

Through two resolutions—the Fulbright (House) and Connally (Senate)—it said the United States would favor a world organization, and would take part in it.

The United Nations was set up but it soon developed that the Russian bloc and the rest of the world couldn't get together on policies.

Last June the Senate passed the Vandenburg resolution.

This went farther than a mere statement of principle. It named specific steps it wanted the United States to push in the United Nations. It wanted:

1. The veto dropped on some United Nations business.

2. The United States to promote "regional arrangements"—such as the proposed North Atlantic Pact.

3. The rest of the world to understand that we intend to act under those regional arrangements.

4. Further efforts to set up a United Nations police force and to limit mass destruction weapons.

Now, a fourth time, a group of Congressmen proposes a reminder to the world that our objective is still a world agency that can prevent war.

They want Congress to approve a simple expression of principle which says "it should be the fundamental objective of the foreign policy of the United States to support and strengthen the United Nations, and to seek its development into a world federation with limited and definite powers but open to all nations . . ."

What good are these resolutions? Germany did stay out of the Western Hemisphere.

And since the debate on the Fulbright-Connally resolutions in 1943 this nation not only has entered a world organization but has taken a lead on it.

And since the Vandenburg resolution the United States Government has fathered the North Atlantic Pact, the most powerful peacetime "regional arrangement" the world has ever known. The pact still awaits full Senate approval, but it got a unanimous vote in the foreign relations committee.

Widespread Rains Help Crops In Greater Part of Prairies

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP).—Widespread rains over the greater part of the prairie provinces have improved crop conditions in the West, the Bureau of Statistics reported today in the fourth of a series of 13 telegraphic crop reports.

Rain, however, still was urgently needed in Central Alberta and South Central and Southwestern sections of Saskatchewan.

STILL INADEQUATE

Despite improvement during the last two weeks, said the bureau, subsoil moisture reserves still were inadequate in many areas. Additional moisture will be required to bring growing crops to maturity.

Grasshopper-control campaigns were being waged in Central Saskatchewan, but the cooler wet weather there during the last two weeks had retarded infestation.

Recovery from frost damage generally was good but in some districts there had to be some reseeding of coarse grains.

POTATOES PROMISING

Crops were progressing satisfactorily in Manitoba where rain was heading out. Potato and hay crops were promising. More than 17,900 acres of sugar beets have been planted and thinning started this week.

In Saskatchewan and Alberta the recent rains have brightened the crop picture. Conditions in the eastern half of Saskatchewan were favorable with grain stands fair to excellent. Wheat was averaging five inches and coarse grains three to four inches in height. Rain still was needed in the West and South Saskatchewan.

SEEDING COMPLETE

Seeding was almost complete in Alberta. Grain crops were reported faid to good, except for a large area in the central part of the province, still lacking sufficient moisture.

Wheat varied in height down from two to eight inches and coarse grains from one to six.

Will Protect Farmer's Right To Name Buyer

WINNIPEG, June 8 (CP).—Stanley N. Jones, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, said in a statement today that "the exchange will take such action as may be found possible and proper to protect the interests of the tens of thousands of grain growers opposed" to coarse grain marketing under the Canadian Wheat Board.

Commenting on the recent Federal Trade Department announcement that the marketing of coarse grains would pass from the hands of the exchange to the board August 1, Mr. Jones said members of the exchange "deplore the possibility of extinction of the Western farmer's right to sell grain in the market of his choice."

"Not the least of the many objectionable features" of the Federal Government's move "is the discrimination against farmers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta."

Mr. Jones charged farmers in these provinces alone "are regimented and lose their freedom of action while producers in all other provinces retain their liberty to sell their products as they please."

Extension of Government "monopoly and control" is the result of years of propagation of the Socialistic principle of compulsory marketing and continuous political pressure exerted upon Federal and Provincial Governments by leaders of the wheat pools and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, he said.

The "security" which proponents of this monopoly claim for it, and promise to farmers, has been available to producers through the floor price program in effect since 1942.

"This latest Government action can add nothing to this guaranteed protection but will take away both freedom and financial award," Mr. Jones said.

LODGE PROTEST

BERLIN, June 8 (Reuters). — The Western Powers today lodged a routine protest against practice bombing by Russian aircraft in the Hamburg air corridor. The Soviet notification said that the bombing would be carried out today near Kremmen at a height of 650 feet.

U.S. May Put Aluminum On Stockpile

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP).—Rep. Horan (R., Wash.) said today he has been informed that aluminum may be put on the "A" list of strategic metals being stockpiled by the Government.

He said aluminum has not been on the list because it has been scarce since the war.

The metal now is not in short supply, he told a reporter, and added he was informed action to add it to the list of metals may be taken by mid-June.

Recent declines in domestic zinc and lead prices have raised "demands from all over the Pacific Northwest," Horan said, for clarification of the Government's policy for stockpiling such metals as strategic supplies.

He said that while the Munitions Board and Bureau of Federal Supply keep secret all stockpiling activities, spokesmen told him they have no plans to purchase zinc in the year starting July 1.

Although some lead will be purchased, he added, "no one will state how much, when, or from whom."

"No one should expect the Government to buy up metals," he said, "merely to provide a market for them. But the present 'hush-hush' stockpiling policy gives the miners of the Northwest absolutely nothing to lay plans on."

Belgians to Judge Movies

BRUSSELS, June 8 (AP).—The Belgian seacoast town of Knokke-Le-Zoute will look more like Hollywood between June 18 and July 10.

During that time the second world film festival to be held in Belgium will be in full swing.

Mingling with the traditional crowd of holidayers on Knokke's crowded beaches will be film stars, producers, technicians and all the dozens of people needed to make and present films.

Dozens of films of every nature will be shown as countries from many parts of the world present their best productions made between January 1, 1948, and May 15, 1949. The showing will take place in Knokke' Casino.

The big movie industry of the United States will be represented, as will those of Britain, France and countries less well known in the realm of films, such as Norway, Portugal and Czecho-Slovakia.

For judging purposes, the films will be divided into four categories: long fiction films, short fiction films, documentaries, including cartoons, and newsreels. The last three categories will be subdivided again into groups including colored films, scientific films and the like.

A "grand prix" will be awarded in each classification by an all-Belgian jury. This will be a statuette of St. Michael, especially created for the occasion. St. Michael is the patron saint of Brussels.

The judges also will decide awards of dozens of lesser prized ranging from the best male role and best color film to a prize for the country showing the best over-all collection of pictures.

Flower Baskets Popular With Tourists

—Colonist Photo

Sight calculated to catch eye of tourists from far and near are flower baskets pictured above hanging from lamp standard in front of Empress Hotel. Parks department last week-end placed some 500 flower baskets on lamp standards throughout downtown area of city. Victoria began using famed hanging flower baskets in 1927.

Courtesy, Charm of France Have Gone Says Countess

The traditional courtesy and charm of France has fled, says Countess Irimy De Buisseret.

Anyone who meets the countess during her five-day holiday in Victoria will know the reason why. She brought most of it with her.

She is an ambassador's daughter, a professor, a writer, a lawyer and an attractive woman of 31 who doesn't mind admitting her age.

LIKE WILD BEASTS

"La politesse francaise," once renowned the world over, no longer exists, she said in an interview at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"They're like wild beasts in the jungle. If you brush against someone in the subway, you're as likely as not to receive a punch in the nose, or have your hat caved in."

If a lady fails to tip a taximan, she is engulfed in a stream of Parisian invective—which is probably the richest in the world.

But Frenchmen never were quite as polished as the world thought, the countess admits. "It's probably a legend—like the big feet of Englishwomen. That's not true either."

War's horrors and postwar privation have plunged Frenchmen into "the deepest melancholia," she says.

FRENCHMEN AFRAID

"Frenchmen are afraid—of external war, civil war and of each other."

It was to escape all this, and breathe a new air of confidence and freedom, that the countess came to Canada a year ago. She wants to be a Canadian citizen.

Now she is the entire faculty of the Russian department at the University of Alberta, Edmonton. She fell in love with the Pacific Coast when she saw it, and has long-range plans to move West.

The "chic" countess, who speaks with a fascinating Parisian lilt, has packed a lot into her life. The daughter of a Belgian diplomat, she assumed French nationality on coming of age under the French law which allows citizenship to be born in the country.

FOUR AMBITIONS

Of her four ambitions the law, writing, the academic profession and diplomacy, she has only to achieve the last. She was admitted to the bar and practised in France. She wrote political articles, using her father's name to still the eyebrows which are raised at women who dabble in politics.

When someone spoke of her articles and asked whether the author was any relation, she invariably said he was a cousin.

At 19, she published a book of short stories, "Stories on the Moss." Later she published "The Fantastic Clock," also fiction.

Shortage of paper forced a publisher to postpone her third book for nearly three years. That was one reason why she packed up her manuscript and crossed the Atlantic.

Now she is writing a humorous book about her life in Canada, and, simultaneously, a book about Russia. Her father was once ambassador to St. Petersburg.

She is also writing articles about international affairs, which she hopes to sell to Eastern Canadian magazines.

In her spare time—what there is of it—she is learning Spanish, hoping to go a little way toward matching the achievements of her father, who mastered 12 tongues fluently.

Berlin Strike "Only Barrier" To Trade Pact

BERLIN, June 8 (AP).—A high United States official said tonight Berlin's railway strike is all that stands in the way of East-West trade transport agreements in Germany.

With that settled, the officials said agreements could be concluded "within 12 hours."

A United States proposal in Paris—that the Berlin commandants try to settle trade and communications matters and report to the Big Four Foreign Ministers there by June 13—was regarded as feasible.

"I honestly think it is possible we could settle those matters by June 13," said the American official, who declined to be quoted by name.

BIG HITCH

The walkout of 14,000 anti-Communist strikers was the big hitch.

The workers struck for payment in West marks, recognition of their anti-Communist union (U.G.O.) and job security.

But the pivotal question is that [illegible] that the Russian-controlled Reichsbahn (railroad) recognize a strong, anti-Communist union.

Thus far the Reichsbahn has refused to do so, recognizing only the non-striking Communist union.

"If the Reichsbahn would recognize U.G.O., the strike could be settled and we could wrap up the trade and transport questions swiftly," the American spokesman said.

Vigorous Protest Registered On Commissionaires as Guards

A vigorous resolution protesting employment of commissionaires for guard work at Esquimalt Dockyard was passed at a meeting of the district council of the Federated Civil Service Association here last night.

A copy of the resolution, urging that vacancies be filled from civil service "eligible" lists, established by competitive examination, is being forwarded to association headquarters at Ottawa.

Withdrawal of the commissionaires was demanded "in the interests of a higher standard of living for veterans employed in this work."

Appointed delegate to the forthcoming association convention in Toronto was J. E. Carey.

Victoria School Board Defendant In Supreme Court Suit for $24,000

Action in a $24,000 Supreme Court law suit against the Greater Victoria Board of School Trustees has begun with the issuing of a writ of summons naming the board as defendant.

The writ was filed by P. J. Sinnott, acting for Victor J. Casanave, 2121 Cadboro Bay Road, who is claiming the sum. The money represents the value of Mr. Casanave's home, adjoining Oak Bay High School.

Mr. Casanave claims in the writ that the trustees passed a resolution in March, 1947, authorizing compulsory purchase and expropriation of his home and garden by the board.

Then they entered a notice of their intended expropriation against his property in the Victoria Land Registry Office, he adds.

ASKS COURT ORDER

As an alternative to his claim, Mr. Casanave asks for a court order to cancel the registration of expropriation.

Because of the registration, Mr. Casanave claims extra damages "as a result of unlawful interference" with the title of his property. The claimed interference has prevented him from selling the property, he asserts.

He also claims payment of legal and professional services he incurred when the trustees began, then abandoned, arbitration proceedings to fix a price for his property.

Well-Known City Man Ends 32 Years' Service

One of Victoria's best-known personalities, W. Jones, of 1655 Oak Bay Avenue, is retiring this week after 32 years' service with New Method Laundries Ltd.

W. JONES

Mr. Jones joined the Victoria Steam Laundry, as it was then known, under the late Mark Graham, on November 15, 1916, and became a route salesman in the James Bay area. During the next 11 years "Bill" Jones became known to hundreds of people in Victoria. Delivering first by horse and rig and then by Model "T" he was a familiar figure and endeared himself to dozens of families in the district he served.

BECAME SUPERVISOR

In 1927, following the amalgamation of the Victoria Steam and New Method Laundries under the name New Method Laundries Ltd., Mr. Jones became a route supervisor and continued in this capacity until 1939. During the recent war he had charge of the shipping.

During his years with New Method, Mr. Jones has seen a tremendous growth in laundry business. When he started, the bulk of the business was stiff collars and shirts. Today, he says, the average housewife doesn't wish to turn her home into a factory and consequently she is turning increasingly to the laundry to relieve her of this heavy weekly chore.

Mr. Jones will have plenty to keep him busy in his retirement. A member of the Royal Arcanum for 25 years, he has passed through all the chairs and is a Grand Lodge officer. He has belonged to the Knights of Pythias for 15 years and is presently master of the exchequer. He is a member of the Eagles and of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Korassan. He is also a past president of the Lower Island Softball Association.

GUEST OF HONOR

Mr. Jones was guest of honor at a banquet at the Strathcona Cafe Wednesday, tendered by the management of New Method Laundries. About 50 of his fellow employees attended.

On behalf of the directors of New Method Laundries, H. R. Stephen, vice-president, presented Mr. Jones with a cheque in recognition of his services. He also gave him a traveling case as a personal gift. On behalf of the employees Mr. Edward Collier presented Mr. Jones with an easy chair.

During the evening tributes were paid to Mr. Jones' loyal service and to his kindness and fraternal association with his fellow employees. ***

ICEBOX PROWLER

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP).—Police came on the run when a Windsor housewife phoned to say there was a prowler in her house. The prowler was found in the icebox. It was a head of cabbage which had been placed on a block of ice, had melted the ice and fallen with a clatter into some dishes.

Higher than famed Niagara is Mooney Falls in Northern Arizona's Havasu Canyon.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Little Stories for Bedtime - - -

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

BIG TOM HEADS HIS FAMILY

At first Big Tom took no notice of his big family of twelve half-grown youngsters beyond strutting a little and showing off for their benefit. They stood in considerable awe of him, but they still looked to their mother for advice and example. But little by little they found that Mrs. Gobbler looked to Big Tom as the leader. Wherever he went, she went. She was anxious to stay with him now as she had been to keep out of his way before. So the twelve young Gobblers began to imitate Big Tom and to look to him for the knowledge of the ways of the Green Forest which before they had looked to their mother for. In short, Big Tom was the head of the family, and to have seen him you would have supposed that he always had been.

Now, as you know, Big Tom was very wise and smart. If he hadn't been, he never would have lived to be so big and wonderful. Right down in his heart he was very, very proud of his big family. Living alone so long had quite cured him of all jealousy. So now he watched over them with all the cunning that his long experience had given him. When they went forth to feed, it was Big Tom who was constantly on guard. It was he who picked out the place where they should roost at night, who was the last to close his eyes, and the next morning the first to open them. It was he who insisted that now that they could fly a little the young Gobblers should always roost in a tree at night, and made it his particular business to see to it that every one of them was off the ground before he himself flew up.

Having lived on the ground altogether up to the time that they began to fly, the youngsters at first did not take kindly to perching all night in a tree.

"Clinging to a branch this way makes my toes ache," complained one.

"I don't see any sense in it," declared another. "We were safe enough down on the ground when we were little and helpless, and now that we are big enough to know danger when we see it, and to take care of ourselves, we must spend each night in a tree. I don't like it!"

Big Tom had overheard this. Very red in the face and puffing angrily, he marched over to the two foolish little Gobblers and looked at them so fiercely that their hearts went pit-a-pat, pit-a-pat, with fright, and they wished with all their might that they had kept their tongues still.

"The next time I hear anybody saying such foolish things, whoever it is will go out to shift for himself in the Great World," said he angrily. "When you were little, you slept on the ground and were safe. Why? Because your mother gathered you under her wings and protected you. That's why. Now you are too big for that, very much too big, and there are so many of you that if you should continue to sleep on the ground it would be only a matter of time when Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote would find you. Or perhaps it would be Billy Mink or Shadow the Weasel. In the daytime you are safe enough on the ground, provided you use the senses Old Mother Nature has given you, and don't grow heedless or careless. But it is wholly a different matter at night. In a tree you are safe from all but Hooty the Owl, and you are safe from him if you roost in the right kind of place and keep still. Now, as long as I am head of this family, there is to be no more such talk as I have just heard. Do you understand?"

"Yes, sir," replied the two little Gobblers meekly.

Next Story: Hooty the Owl overhears Reddy Fox talking.

When they went forth to feed, it was Big Tom who was always on guard.

Nova Scotians at Polls Today To Elect 21st Provincial House

HALIFAX, June 8 (CP). — Nova Scotia's 400,000-odd voters elect their 21st Legislature tomorrow.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald will seek his fourth mandate on the Liberal record since 1933. He has led the party for 16 years with the exception of a five-year term in the Federal Cabinet as minister of national defence for naval services during the World War.

Progressive Conservative Leader Robert L. Stanfield, making his first bid for a provincial seat, leads a full slate of 37 candidates with the slogan "The tide has turned." His party was not represented in the last House.

MORE MINISTERS

The C.C.F., which formed the two-man Opposition in the 20th Legislature, has campaigned on a platform of increased social benefits. Its House leader, Russell Cunningham, issued the party manifesto calling for two additional Cabinet ministers and expansion of hydro and telephone facilities under public ownership.

There are 21 C.C.F. candidates in the field, full slates of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives and one Independent-Liberal.

Seven seats were added to the 30-seat House by a redistribution bill proclaimed at dissolution of the House April 27.

Nova Scotia has had 14 administrations since it entered Confederation in 1867. Ten of these have been Liberal and four Conservative. With the exception of a Conservative Government from 1925-33, the province has elected Liberal rule since 1882.

Polling tomorrow will be from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. A.D.T. (8 a.m. to 6 p.m. C.D.T.).

Chiefs Revive Unity Party

MONTREAL, June 8 (CP) — Dr. Noel Decarie, treasurer of the National Unity Party, whose chiefs were interned during the war, announced today that the party has been revived and its leader, Adrien Arcand, will run in the Federal election in Richelieu-Vercheres.

Arcand, interned under Defence of Canada Regulations for five years for speeches likely to cause disaffection to the King and prejudicial to recruiting, now lives at Lanoraie, Que., 40 miles from Montreal.

MYSTERY SOLVED

Mystery of a drifting rowboat in Georgia Strait was solved yesterday with word at Vancouver that its owner, Fritz Hesse, is safe at Silver Bay, on Gabriola Island.

The report that the boat containing Hesse's coat with papers and a pair of oars had been discovered by United States fishermen, had led to fears for his safety.

When contacted by R.C.A.F. officials, Hesse said he was "alive and well," but he wished someone would return his boat.

Changing From Cold to Warm Weather Diet

By DR. J. B. WARREN

As we need more and richer foods to keep the body warm in cold weather, we should, as warm weather approaches, cut down on the amount of food and eat "lighter" foods. This means less fatty foods, rich desserts and foods that require cooking: Use more fruits, vegetables, eggs and milk, cold lean meats, jellies, salads, cottage cheese and frozen desserts.

The amount of food should be cut down by at least 10 per cent during the warm weather.

Singing Star Threatened Over "Mystery Melody"

NEW YORK, June 3 (NANA)—The 28-year-old singing star of "Stop the Music!" program has for months been getting threats, bribe-offers and hysterical pleas—to reveal the title of the "Mystery Melody," key to the program's huge giveaway jackpot.

It was in a well-known midtown restaurant recently that one unsavory character sidled up to Dick Brown's table and introduced himself as a publisher.

"Yes," this fugitive from a Damon Runyon story said, "I publish all sorts of high-class things . . . pamphlets on astrology, numerology, physical culture, and a tip sheet on the horses. Now I would like to be able to publish a little sheet informing our readers how by the stars we can tell the names of the next five mystery tunes."

me?" Dick asked.

OFFERED MONEY

"If you could quietly give me the names of the tunes, a hefty hunk of change would be in it for you."

The singer left the restaurant—without ordering dessert.

In Cincinnati, a gambler offered him 50 per cent of the "take" if Brown would tell him the name of the "Mystery Tune" and arrange to have him called on the phone.

Brown answered, as he almost always does such propositions, "Mister, if I could do that I would . . . every week . . . for my mother."

This sort of thing has made the program's sponsors hire private detectives to protect Brown. His phone number has had to be changed to an unlisted one, and his home address is kept a secret.

Sometimes the vocalist has been more amused than annoyed. One young man told Brown he would donate all the program's prizes to charity . . . except for the lifetime supply of Argyle socks. He was just mad about Argyles.

HAD NUMBER CHANGED

An elderly woman told him that she had gone to a great deal of trouble with the telephone company to have four consecutive "7's" in her telephone number, which meant she would most certainly be called to the phone. All she needed now was the title.

Actually, Brown does not know the title of the "Mystery melody." Only five people on the show do—master of ceremonies, Bert Parks; conductor Harry Salter, who writes the orchestral arrangement; and the three men who research the tune without even being known to each other.

"Anyway, if I did know the title," says the much-harassed singer, "and could arrange to be called—why, I'd quit the show and just sit home waiting for the phone to ring."

Freed From Prison

—Central Press Canadian

Brazil's equivalent of "Axis Sally," Margarida, 26-year-old blonde Brazilian of German ancestry, is shown leaving jail cell after her 20-year sentence for treason was commuted by President Eurico Gaspar Dutra. Miss Hirschman was sentenced for broadcasting in Portuguese from Berlin during war for Nazis. Her program was called "Mixed Salad." Brazilian president signed her commutation of sentence on appeal by petition signed by 96 senators and deputies. Two Brazilian men who worked with her on broadcasting program are still serving sentences. Margarida's special treatment while in prison for three years caused bitter criticism in Brazilian press.

Storekeeper Hit by Youth

Leo Bedard, proprietor of the Annette Coffee Shop, complained to city police late Tuesday night that a fleet-footed youth wearing running shoes had entered his store, hit him on the head with a sugar bowl, then run off into the night.

In spite of small cuts on the head and ear, caused by the blow, Bedard told police he sprinted out of his shop after his assailant and managed to trail him for four blocks before he fell behind and lost him near the Y.M.C.A.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"SCANDAL" AND "SLANDER—TO TRAP AN ENEMY?

Here are two very intriguing words, one of whose most interesting aspects is that they have an origin in common.

Our connotation of a scandal or scandalous action emphasizes the disgrace or opprobrium attaching to some flagrant misbehavior. This interpretation is not new, and was not new even when Shakespeare gave the following example of it:

"O, what a scandal is it to our crown,
That two such noble peers as ye should jar!"

However, in accordance with its etymological origin the word should describe not an offence, nor the reprobation called forth by an offence, but a slander. For "scandal," through the French "scandele," goes back to the Latin "scandalum," which derives from the Greek word for a trap—a snare laid for an enemy! Surely this is food for thought.

Now as to "slander," which we know to a false or malicious report, the reader may comment that here is the word which the derivation of "scandal" describes—"a snare laid for an enemy"! And this it is. "Slander" itself goes back to the same Latin "scandalum" as "scandal" only by the route of the Old English "sclaundre." And the Latin "scandalum" is out of that Greek root for "snare," or "stumbling block." Behind all of this there seems to be the Sanskrit word for spring or leap—"skand."

Thus from the spring of a trap comes a snare, which is also a stumbling block and becomes then an offence, a disgrace, a scandal or slander—take your choice!

Russia Seeking to Draw Israel Into Red Orbit

The following is by Robert C. Miller, just returned from a long tour of duty in the Middle East, where he had a first-hand opportunity to observe the undercurrents in that troubled area.

By ROBERT C. MILLER

NEW YORK, June 8 (UP).—Russia is determined to incorporate Israel within the Soviet sphere of influence.

Balkan emigrants revealed in Tel Aviv that attempts are being made to establish Communist cells throughout the Holy Land.

Israeli government heads verified the reports.

Immigration officials said special precautionary measures are being taken with Eastern European Jews to prevent the establishment of a Communist underground.

Known Communist agitators are isolated immediately upon arrival in Israel and their activities carefully watched by police. At least four are listed by Jerusalem authorities; all are Balkan Jews who entered Israel as immigrants.

REDS IN NAME ONLY

The leader of the Jewish Bulgarian community, Daruch Sholam, claimed that nearly half the $5,000 Bulgarian immigrants were registered Communists, but all had dropped their affiliation as soon as they were safely out of Bulgaria.

"Jewish Communists were given preference for exit visas," Sholam explained, "so we all became Communists. However, it was not as easy as we thought. We received special orientation courses before leaving Bulgaria, and it was repeatedly emphasized how necessary it was for us to remain 'true Communists' in Israel. Severe punishment was promised anyone who abandoned the party."

Yugoslav Jews gave similar stories, claiming special "commissars" accompanied each shipload of immigrants to Israel preaching Communism and reminding the Jews of their "obligations to Russia."

CHURCH TAKEN OVER

The Soviets have taken over all the Russian church properties in Israel and a specially-appointed archimandrite from Moscow, Leonid, has begun a purge of all non-Communist priests in Israel.

Two Deacon Mefody and a monk, Nikifor, were forcibly removed from the Russian compound in Jerusalem when they refused to acknowledge Archimandrite Leonid as the supreme head of the church in Jerusalem.

Israeli intelligence officers say there is absolutely no threat of a Communist coup in Israel as all Red agitators are identified long before they reach the Holy Land and any attempts to establish cells are easily thwarted.

Foreign Office sources revealed that Russia has repeatedly demanded some indication of strong Jewish friendship in return for Soviet backing of the Jewish state. Soviet diplomatic pressure has been applied to swing the Ben Gurion Government onto the Russian side of the East-West battle.

STEER NEUTRAL COURSE

Russia has repeatedly reminded the Jews, Foreign Office sources said, that the Soviets helped the Soviets for the United Nations fight in behalf of partition and the establishment of the Czecho-Slovakian air lift over which the bulk of Israel's illegal war supplies were moved.

The Jewish government, however, is determined to steer a neutral course and avoid any entangling alliances with Russia which might create distrust in the Anglo-American camp.

Many Jews are clamoring for an expose of the policy of the Czechs and Russians in forcing Israel to pay exorbitant dollar prices for obsolete and damaged military equipment. The Government, however, fears the loss of Russian friendship, and, sources said, undoubtedly will forget the entire messy business rather than antagonize the Soviets.

WINDFALL SHORT-LIVED

AUBURN, Wash. (UP).—During a windstorm, paper money began blowing down Main Street. A scramble for the money began. City Treasurer M. E. Brewer had rounded a corner with $921 in bills under his arm when a gust of wind blew it away. He said he got every cent back.

Couple to Fly to England on Visit

—Paul Joncas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Prideaux are pictured leaving St. John's Anglican Church yesterday afternoon after their marriage. Following the bridal couple are Miss Mary Gardner with the best man, Mr. E. H. Gardner, and Miss Leta Bronsdon with Mr. P. Petersen, who acted as usher. The bride is the former Judith Mary Arman Bronsdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Bronsdon, 345 Vancouver Street, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Prideaux, Parkstone, Dorset, England. Following a short honeymoon at Yellow Point Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Prideaux will fly to England to visit relatives and friends.

Miss Judith Bronsdon Bride Of Dudley Charles Prideaux

White snapdragons and stocks in shades of mauve decorated the chancel at St. John's Anglican Church Wednesday afternoon for the marriage of Judith Mary Arman, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Bronsdon, 345 Vancouver Street, to Dudley Charles Prideaux, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Prideaux, Parkstone, Dorset, England.

Rev. Roy Melville of St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, V.I., read the nuptial service and Mr. Frederick Chubb played appropriate organ interludes.

The pretty bride, given away by her father, was gowned in white slipper satin embossed at the neckline with back interest being provided by a bow and bustle effect. Her full-length veil of fine silk net was held by a tiara headpiece. A circular bouquet of red roses and stephanotis with cascade of swainsona and stephanotis, completed the bride's charming ensemble.

Her attendants were Miss Mary Gardner, wearing pale mauve taffeta fashioned with bustle back, mauve flower headpiece and orchid-colored mitts, and Miss Leta Bronsdon, her sister, gowned in Spring-green taffeta featuring ruched skirt panels, headband of pastel flowers, and wearing green mitts. Both carried sheaths of pale yellow gladioli and mauve sweet peas.

The bridegroom had Mr. E. H. Gardner as best man and Mr. P. Petersen acted as usher.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, where the young couple were assisted in receiving by her parents. The rooms were decorated with roses, pansies and seasonal flowers with trailing periwinkle. The table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred by the two-tiered cake surmounted by a silver bud vase of sweetheart roses. Mr. Melville proposed the health of the bride.

After a few days of honeymoon at Yellow Point Lodge, the couple will fly to England to visit relations and friends. For traveling the bride chose a grey tailored suit with navy blue accessories.

Long-Delayed Repairs To Vessel Get Started

Marine News

Repairs to the freighter Ss. Riverside—strikebound in the Esquimalt drydock area since April 15—will get under way today, and it is expected the ship will leave this port Friday.

Up to now workmen of Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., which [illegible] have [illegible] the Canadian Seafarers' Union and the Seafarers' International Union.

Yesterday however machinists boilermakers and riggers decided to carry on with the job. The ship will be drydocked this morning. Machinists have started to repair the ship's propeller.

The Riverside arrived here from Vancouver on April 15. Her propeller had been damaged while leaving the Mainland port and immediately after entering drydock here the damaged part was to be [illegible] and replace the "prop" a C.S.U. picket line had been established at approaches to the ship. On board were members of the rival S.I.U. They were paid off some time ago and the vessel has remained empty and idle at the drydock jetty.

Departure of the freighter from this port will mean the end of the rival seamen's unions friction as far as this port is concerned.

To Salvage Fish Waste

What butchers now say of the pig from which nothing is wasted but the squeal, will soon apply in a definite way to fish of British Columbia.

In this connection workmen at the Bay Street plant of Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd., are now completing an interesting unit known as an evaporator plant.

Containing more than 75 tons of prefabricated steel the plant is being built for the Imperial Cannery, at Steveston, the largest fish cannery in the British Empire. Purpose of the unit will be to catch every bit of waste water from the cannery's reduction plant and from the formerly wasted liquid extract and solids. These solids contain valuable vitamins and other products and are processed for a number of trades, including drugs.

The evaporator plant will be shipped to Steveston from this port by means of two scows. Work on the unit started early in May and it will be installed on or about July 1. The sections will leave here about June 14 or 15, reports T. A. Kennedy, V.M.D. purchasing agent.

This evaporator, explained Mr. Kennedy, was tested in the laboratory in usage of fish.

The local shipyard is the only one in the province that has built such a plant. V.M.D. is also constructing a large fish-meal drying unit for the Imperial Cannery.

Garbage Pays Chinese

How would you like to have your house cleaned thoroughly each day, and the entire job done in exchange for the garbage from your kitchen?

Fantastic?

Yes, here in Canada . . . but arrangements along that line are commonplace in and about Chinese ports along the Yangtse River. Men aboard the Canadian destroyer H.M.C.S. Crescent, which returned to Esquimalt from China several days ago, will verify this statement.

While anchored off Shanghai the Crescent was scrubbed and washed almost daily by groups of Chinese women and all they asked in return for the service was the ship's garbage. And they got it.

The even painted sections of the warship's hull with paint supplied by the ship.

CARRY GARBAGE AWAY

At the end of their day's work the Chinese would carry the garbage away in coarse sacking or rough bags take their "pay" to a nearby shore or pier, then pick through it like so many vultures.

The ship cleaners took much pride in their work and usually expected to receive some form of "letter of recommendation" from the ship. Many of the clean-up groups hold and treasure, such letters or notes from officers and men of any number of warships and other vessels from many nations.

One of the Chinese women who worked on the Crescent had letters of recommendation signed by officers of a German warship which had anchored off Shanghai in days before the Great War. The letters are handed down through the Chinese families.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

The Greater Vancouver Water District advises that it is necessary to perform work on its mains across Second Narrows, involving the use of scows and a small derrick. Various buoys will have to be moored in the channel and during operations lines to one shore from the equipment will be required.

It is not expected this will prevent traffic from using the channel but will require that all traffic use the unobstructed side. Patrol boats will be stationed east and west of the work at these times to warn approaching vessels.

Local Department of Transport agent T. E. Morrison reports it is expected work on the project will start June 20 at slack tide and continue until the end of July, using daylight slacks. The buoys will be moored out a few days before operations get under way. Mariners have been asked to use extreme caution in the area while the work is under way.

POST-GRADUATE STUDY

Surgeon Commander Henry R. Rattan, O.B.E., R.C.N. 40 of Victoria, formerly assistant medical director general at naval headquarters, has undertaken post-graduate studies in dermatology at University Hospital, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, it was announced by naval headquarters Tuesday.

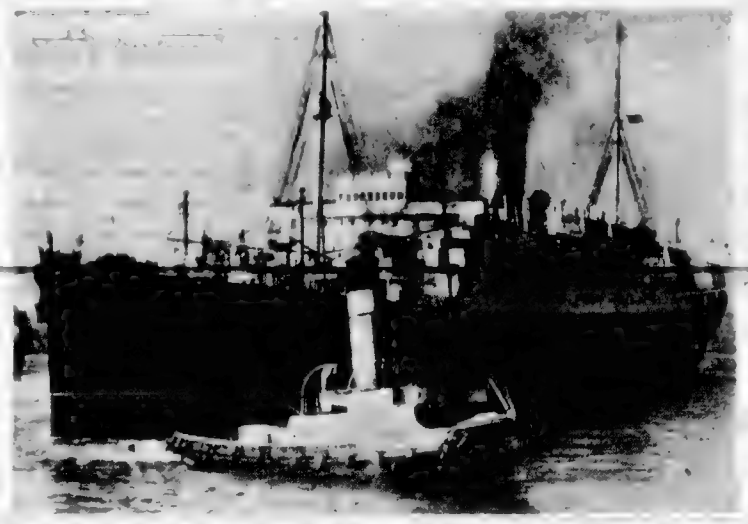
This is in line with the navy's policy of providing officers with an opportunity to take a post-graduate university training which will be of value in their specialized fields in the service.

FINED OVER BLACKJACK

A Canadian Seaman's Union man was fined $50 or a month in jail yesterday in Vancouver for carrying a blackjack.

Kenneth Munroe, 23, pleaded guilty but told the court he obtained the weapon because he heard that a rival seafarers' international union member was carrying a gun. Munroe paid the fine.

Liner Enters Canadian Service



Now well on her way to Canada, Cunard liner Franconia is shown here leaving Liverpool for maiden voyage to Quebec, where she will berth June 10. Commanded by Capt. Charles S. Williams, Franconia is famous former world cruise liner which, during distinguished war career served as Winston Churchill's headquarters for Yalta Conference.

VANDALISM ON FERRY

Various tools left on the Brentwood Ferry, sometime Tuesday night while the boat was tied up at the Dallas Road Marine Ways, Inspector Reserve for overhaul, city police reported yesterday.

Detective A. J. A. Muir, who investigated the incident, found [illegible] had broken into the engine room and wheelhouse by forcing a door in the dark.

Upon the discovery a fire hatchet square bar in the dark with a file axe found on board [illegible] added.

He said ferry officials could find nothing missing but noticed that the fire extinguishers had been taken from the wheelhouse and left on the deck.

It appeared to be certain that the hatchet was used to break off a trunk parked nearby and shown widely around, smashing vard breaking off a number of electric wires.

ALTER SERVICE

Changes in the C.P.R.'s steamship service linking Victoria, the Gulf Islands and Vancouver, were announced Tuesday by officials of the line.

Mr. Princess Mary, veteran coastal vessel, will continue in the Gulf Islands service but will not make any calls into ports of Victoria. After June 17 she will make three round trips through the Gulf Islands from Vancouver on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Direct link between the Gulf Islands and Vancouver Island will be made by the C.P.R.'s Motor Princess, which will leave Sidney at 3:45 p.m. each Sunday call at various Gulf Island ports and then proceed to Vancouver.

On Monday mornings the Motor Princess will leave Vancouver at 9 and at Gulf Islands ports and proceed to Sidney. There will be bus connections at Sidney for passengers boarding or leaving the ferry.

Officially the Princess Mary will not make any calls in Victoria only for the remainder of the Summer but it is almost certain she will hover and here again where she connected with the Gulf Islands service.

The African bushman's national garment is the "kaross" or sheepskin, worn with the woolly side out in Summer and reversed in Winter.

Magistrate H. C. Hall remanded Frank Forde, 50 Government Street, [illegible] 16 on a charge of grievously assaulting John White. Vancouver, at that address June 5. Forde was represented by H. K. Hate.

ASSAULT CHARGES READ

Six assault charges were read out against three men charged early Friday morning after a Chinatown fray.

John W. Chesney, 22, of 1307 Douglas Road, and Dale A. Mariner, 21, of 1009 Vancouver Street, pleaded not guilty. On assaulting George Chow, of Pleasant Street. They were represented by David Sloan.

Juen George Chee appeared in the dock with Alexander Osterloy on the same incident. An were remanded until Friday.

Forgery trial of Lyle Adam Maitland, formerly of Qualicum, was adjourned to June 16 at request of city prosecutor Harrison until handwriting experts can analyze the endorsements on a $150 check he allegedly wrote and at the sample of his writing.

Mr. Harrison said he wanted to have Mr. Maitland, who [illegible] to have been endorsing the cheque before he goes on with the prosecution.

BAIL REDUCED

In view of the week-long delay in the trial, Magistrate Hall granted the request of Maitland's lawyer, James J. Proudfoot, that bail be reduced from $1,000 to $100.

Mr. Harrison withdrew charges against Victor Singh, Gill, alleging he operated a city woodyard without a yard permit.

Language difficulties forced Magistrate Hall to remand George Chee and Chew Fook Cheong until Monday when they had trouble understanding the charge against them. They are charged with being in illegal possession of a pistol.

Rain, general throughout the Pacific Northwest last night, was a welcome sight to Vic Ott, the A's [illegible] record. Ott's club, when it [illegible] payment of the Elks, [illegible] of the league with the exception of the Yakima Braves. The rest will enable Manager Ted [illegible] to open against the Senators with Jim Pe[illegible] the lineup of regulars. The club had a power added to its ranks when Outfielder Al Drew reported in yesterday.

APPEARED WITH SPOKANE

Drew is the property of the Vancouver club, having been purchased from Vicksburg of the Southern League, where he hit .305 last season. He spent most of the year [illegible] Spokane. The Indians bought him from Portland [illegible] but he did not report [illegible] to Victoria. He appeared in about ten games with Spokane and hit safely in [illegible] times. He is hardly likely to see action tonight.

A walk, Ken Richardson's double and Jack Calvert's single gave the Tacoma team its lone tally in the fourth. Bill [illegible] doubled and Don [illegible] made it 2-0 in the fifth. A base on balls, a sacrifice and Lee Head's one-bagger added another run in the seventh. Lee Stine was [illegible] on a walk and Head's triple.

Golds Ousted From School Baseball Race

HOW THEY STAND

Victoria High School Golds tumbled away a 6-1 decision to their schoolmate Blacks at Macdonald Park yesterday to eliminate themselves from contention for the Inter-High School Baseball League crown. Victory boosted Blacks into a first-place tie with Oak Bay with each team having only one game remaining on the schedule.

Norm Forbes for Blacks and Ian Firth of Golds locked up in a tight mound duel. Forbes allowed but three hits and struck out 12 batters while Firth makes [illegible] bad. Firth gave up five hits but three of them came in the sixth inning and were followed by a hit batsman and two Gold errors to give winners all their runs.

Rumors that there would be a mid-season managerial shift on the Victoria Athletics were stilled this week when club directors gave Ted Norbert a vote of confidence. This corner is inclined to agree with their action. If for no other reason than that it would look too much like blame shifting, but it is violating no confidences to state that there was more than conjecture behind the reports.

No fair minded baseball fan can state that Norbert is altogether to blame for the disappointing showing of the club. On the other hand he has not distinguished himself with any managerial wizardry and has yet to get the most out of the players at his disposal. Almost any manager can win with the best team. The test is to make a good team out of promising material. I am still inclined to believe that the present standing of the A's is not a true indication of their ability.

Analyzing the team position for position, most of the blame must rest with the pitching. Or, perhaps, the lack of it. True, the club has suffered from its own mistakes and has been beating itself much too often. Yet in most of the losing games it would not have taken much to have changed the result.

The lack of an experienced pitcher who can match the other club's best, stop a losing streak, or protect a slim lead has hurt. But so has the chaos which has existed on the mound staff. With the season about one third over as far as the A's are concerned there is no semblance of a regular rotation.

All is not lost yet. There are still more than 100 games left to play and if the A's can win three-fifths of them—no insurmountable task—they should make the play-offs. This is all anyone could ask.

With all uncertainty seemingly dispelled about his position, Norbert can still make this a successful season. To do this he has to make up his mind soon which players figure to be the best over the whole season and sink or swim with his selections. There has been far too much uncertainty on the club and this uncertainty is bound to be reflected in the performances of some players. Let's have a stable line-up of the best the A's have and the prediction here is that conditions will improve.

It should be a safe bet. They can't get much worse.

Random Harvest

After watching the pitching the Yakima club has been getting this week it is hard to believe that the Bears are so far in front. Even with conditions as bad as they have been in the Victoria camp, the A's mound staff as a whole is as good if not better . . . After starting off with a flurry of base hits and sparking the club to its best showing of the season Ray Jacobs has been riding the bench. Many fans still believe he can make the grade if the club went along with him for a while . . . Al Drew, the new outfielder, used to pitch and showed good stuff in a little game of catch last night. He could come in handy . . . Babe Jensen, now playing for Richmond, is a recent bridegroom and Jim Propst confesses he has made up his mind to take the plunge . . . Victoria has taken four out of nine games from Yakima, a better showing than any other club against the leaders. This corner is more certain than ever that the Bears won't be on top when the season ends unless they get more pitching help. Because it has the pitching, Vancouver seems like the best bet with Spokane figuring . . . Answering a request here is a predicted order of finish in the W.I.L.—Vancouver, Spokane, Yakima, Wenatchee, Victoria, Salem, Tacoma and Bremerton . . . Outfielder Sol Israel was back in Victoria Tuesday but not to rejoin the A's. A sale to Bremerton was in the offing but the Bluejackets turned it down and Israel has returned to his Seattle home . . . Most authoritative hitter on the Victoria club is Gil McDougald, who really gets the wood to the ball when he connects. The young second sacker also strikes out less than anyone else and is a player with a possible chance to go all the way . . . One of the mysteries of baseball is why Vic Buccola was not claimed by a club in a higher league. It was a break for the A's, who are getting the best first-basing in the league . . . It cost Ted Savarese money when he show-boated and walked off the field Tuesday. Players called in to umpire in emergency are paid $15 or $20 . . . Talking about umpires, Jerry Mathieu still manages to figure in most of the rhubarbs around the league. It's no coincidence.

Slamming Sammy Snead has been made favorite to capture United States open golf crown over Tough Medinah course at Chicago. Victory for Snead would give him unofficial title of winning the Masters Tournament, U.S. Professional G.C. Association championship and U.S. Open golf in same year. SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 8 (AP).—President Bill Starr of the San Diego Padres Baseball Club of the Pacific Coast League has announced that Dick Barrett, right-handed pitcher released yesterday by Seattle, has signed a contract and will join the club in Hollywood.

Barrett asked for his release from Seattle so he could join a team where he would pitch regularly.

Venezuelan Club Asks $10,000 To Return Olmo

CARACAS, Venezuela, June 8 (AP).—The return of Outfielder Luis Olmo to Brooklyn Dodgers appeared stymied today by a demand by the Pastoria Club of the Venezuela League for a bonus, reported to be $10,000.

The newspaper El Nacional said Antonio Quintero, president of the Pastoria Club, which has Olmo under contract until July 23, will ask Brooklyn for a $5,000 bonus but Quintero said he could not fix the amount until he talked with other owners.

15,000 Watch Scots Blank Ontario XI, 2-0

TORONTO, June 8 (CP).—The touring Scottish international football team defeated Ontario All-Stars here before a crowd of about 15,000 tonight. It was the Scots' first game in Canada.

The visitors took a 2-0 first half lead but were content with that as they concentrated on bottling up the All-Stars in Ontario territory. The Scots muffed almost certain goal-mouth chances with indifferent or wild kicking.

Centre Forward Billie Thornton, in alone on Ontario Goalkeeper Rick Arends of Toronto Scottish on numerous occasions, put the Scots ahead at the ten-minute mark of the first half when he headed in a pass from Sam Cox. Tom Orr scored on a free kick from about 25 yards out at the 25-minute mark.

J. Brown, goalkeeper with Heart of the midlothian Scottish League, was the loneliest man on the field in the second half. Handling only one chance in the 45 minutes, Ontario rarely got to the Scottish defence.

Busher Retired

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP).—Mr. Busher, one of the top two-year-old colts of 1948, has been permanently retired from racing, Maine Chance Farm announced today.

The chestnut son of War Admiral-Baby League injured a foot in the Washington Park Futurity at Chicago last August 14 and hasn't raced since. The injury kept the horse out of the Kentucky Derby and other major races.

Herman Bell Dies

GLENDALE, Calif., June 8 (AP).—Herman Bell, 53, long time pitcher for St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers, died yesterday.

Bell, who operated a restaurant and lived here, was a right-hander. He went up to Cardinals in 1924 from Sioux Falls, S.D., and was on the Cardinal team in 1926 which played New York Yankees in the world series.

Medinah Course Puzzles Qualifiers in U.S. Open

CHICAGO, June 8 (AP).—The big-shot pros in the habit of spending par golf in winning tournaments have great respect for Tough Medinah as the National Open championship approaches.

They think they've found the match on Medinah No. 3 course, stakes 7,040 yards through a field [illegible]

Medinah's par of 36-35—71 has never been taken with such open-mouth awe before. There isn't a [illegible] player who will not settle for a [illegible] 284 [illegible] par to win golf's [illegible] title.

[illegible] reported [illegible] was a 68 by South Africa's Bobby Locke. He needed only 22 putts.

TOUGHEST FOR LOCKE

Barron [illegible] a terrific fade. [illegible] off the tees and [illegible] that's a fine combination for this tournament,' Locke explained.

BARRON FEARS PAR

Barron himself was willing to give [illegible] 286 would take the prize.

'I carded a couple of 76s and was thankful for them,' the White Plains, N.Y., pro observed.

The average winning score in the last ten National Opens is 285.2, including Ben Hogan's record 276 last year.

Included in the cast of aspirants for the title one abdicated by injured Ben Hogan are 121 professionals, one semi-pro and 30 amateurs. All appeared puzzled by the meandering Medinah maze with its tree-trimmed fairways and postage-stamp greens.

TEN FORMER CHAMPIONS

Ten former champions will be seeking the winners $2,000 pot of gold along with seven P.G.A. and four national amateur kings.

The consensus among the professionals is "anyone good enough to qualify for this tournament can win it," which should make the three-day, 72-hole, medal-play test a wide-open affair all the way.

Regardless of the wide-open angle, Sam Snead, Masters and P.G.A. victor, is established as the favorite at 6 to 1. Bobby Locke is next at 8 to 1 and Lloyd Mangrum third at 10 to 1.

Beavers Split In California

Hudson's Bay Beavers dropped their fourth game in five starts on their United States tour Tuesday at Sacramento, losing a 12-4 decision to the Golden Eagles when the Beaver pitching and fielding fell apart.

Eagles tagged Pitcher Ann Corona for a single, three triples and a double in the first inning and added a 360 foot homer by Ed Kenneth in the fourth. Beavers aided the Eagle cause with seven errors.

Beavers won their first game at Redding on Monday when they trimmed the Pepsi-Cola team, 12-6. Helen Shearing homered and Frances Lapsansky tripled in the fifth inning.

Hack Ups Plate Average; Tops A's With .328 Mark

Hitting the ball hard in recent games, John Hack has taken over the batting leadership of the Victoria Athletics. Hack sports a .328 mark with 67 hits in 204 trips and his hit total is also tops for the club.

Close behind Hack are Frank Matoh and Vic Buccola. Matoh, who appears to have levelled off at about his proper average, is batting .324 while Buccola is at the .321 mark. Gil McDougald, who shows more and more promise as a hitter, has climbed to .307 to give the A's four regulars above the accepted standard of batting proficiency. McDougald also leads the club in runs scored, total bases and doubles. Hack leads in runs batted in with 38, followed by McDougald, with 34, and Frank Finnegan, with 32. The A's are now hitting .270 as a team, their highest mark of the season.

Sore-armed Frank Prosse still leads the pitchers with a 6-2 record. Larry Ward, at 4-4, and Jim Propst, 1-1, are the only other pitchers at the .500 mark. Frank Logue's 4.16 earned-run average is the best on the club, a further indication that the mound work has not been all it should be.

Individual averages including Tuesday's game between Yakima and Victoria, follow:

DESERVES MENTION

There is another golfer who deserves mention. His name is Bobby Cruickshank who led the Pittsburgh district at the age of 55. Bobby, a stubby Scot, tied Bobby Jones back in 1923 at Inwood. He came near winning twice later on. He was a member of the famous Black Watch in which Johnny Poe met his death in 1914. The irrepressible Bobby was not only the best golfer in Scotland. He was also the 135-pound boxing champion, the best soccer and the best hockey player.

While Snead has more of what they call color, as far as the galleries are concerned, Demaret is another colorful starter who emphasizes green, crimson, yellow, blue, pink and purple, to say nothing of orange.

Demaret is another fine golfer, one of the best for many years, who has yet to win an Open. He has won the Masters twice and has bagged almost everything else. But the main prize is still resting beyond his reach. This may be his year.

It was in Chicago, back in 1928, that Johnny Farrell, now the pro at Baltusrol, set a remarkable record. His main opponent was Bobby Jones. Farrell played the last four holes with four birdies in his last two rounds, a total of eight finishing birdies to beat Bobby one up in the play-off.

This coming championship, that winds up Saturday afternoon, will carry keen international interest from San Francisco to Capetown, from Boston to Melbourne. The main United States interest can be covered partly by this one line—"How will Snead make out?"

30-Day Limit to Decide Status of Returned Men

CINCINNATI, June 8 (AP)—The 25-player limit may be exceeded for only 30 days by major league ball clubs holding contracts of reinstated men, Commissioner A. B. Chandler said today.

And whenever a team puts one of these men into a championship [illegible] and some one other than a returned player must be lopped off the list, he added.

At the same time he threw some protection to the 18 men formerly outlawed for jumping to the Mexican League. He told the owners they shall not be released unconditionally, nor their contracts assigned to a minor league club, until the expiration of the 30-day period. The 30-day period will begin on the date each player is returned to the fold of his particular club.

Shortly after announcing the reinstatement of the players last Sunday, the commissioner said a reasonable amount of the time would be given the clubs before they would have to return to the 25-player limit.

MONETARY DIFFERENCE

Unless present otherwise [illegible] appear that the teams holding such contracts will have a tough time deciding the future of their one-time stars within the grace period.

Especially is that true where the one-time jumpers are making more money now in semi-pro ball or elsewhere than their old contracts provided. A few of them already are balking on coming back into the fold at the old price.

Salaries of the men shall begin when they return to their clubs and they cannot be paid less than $5,000 annually.

Sox Purchase Oakland Star

CHICAGO, June 8 (AP)—George Metkovich, one of the Pacific Coast League's leading hitters, has been purchased by Chicago White Sox. He will fly here to play against Boston in a night game Friday.

The Sox gave Oakland, Calif., an undisclosed amount of cash and optioned First Baseman Gordon Goldberry and Outfielder Gerry Scala to the Coast club in obtaining Metkovich. The newcomer, a left-hander all around, will replace Gus Zernial, the rookie outfielder who was hitting .355 when he suffered a broken collar bone May 28.

Metkovich's current batting average after 61 games this season is .3[illegible]

Officials Expect Classy Field For 40th Annual Canadian Open

With the June 22 opening day coming up fast, the field for the Canadian Open Golf Championship is beginning to take on the appearance of a Who's Who of the golfing world. A classy entry seems assured for the 40th annual Open over Toronto St. George's course June 22-5.

Reason for the interest of top flight golf [illegible] is not being [illegible]. Quite apart from the [illegible] attached to the Canadian Open [illegible] this year's tournament [illegible] the scheduling of the competition events in the United States and makes the appearance of most of the big name U.S. golfers almost automatic.

MEET WELL PLACED

The Canadian Open at Toronto comes right behind Detroit's $15,000 Motor City Open and just before the $10,000 Washington Star Open. As the Detroit show faces immediately behind the all-important U.S. Open at Cleveland, the big fellows of golf across the line have a chance to shoot for two fat pay cheques and the lion's share of some $45,000 in four tournaments within 23 days.

All of which for a star-studded field of players to compete with the cream of the Canadian golfing crop, who can be expected again to flock to the Toronto links to get the Seth Jam Trophy awarded the tournament champion, happens to fall in the calendar.

The guessing is that South Africa's famous Bobby Locke will be on hand, despite mutterings that he is thinking of leaving the North American golfing scene for awhile. Sam Snead, three times winner of the Seagram Gold Cup and record victor in both the Masters and the PGA tournaments in the States, is a likely contender, as are such high rank pros as Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret who were [illegible] behind Snead in the Masters. Vic Ghezzi, Cary Middlecoff, Dick Metz, Byron Nelson and a lot of others.

Jackie Cupido of Tacoma, Wash., who took the Canadian crown at Vancouver a year ago and immediately announced that he would not defend it, has changed his mind and will be on hand to attempt a repeat performance of his shot! Victory last year. Vancouver's alleged coming young Walt Malkins, who led all Canadian citizens last year, is a definite starter, as are all the top Canadian pros.

Longden Plans O.C. Holiday At Birthplace

ARCADIA, Calif., June 8 (AP)—Jockey Johnny Longden, the Mr. Money-Bags of the turf, is planning to visit the place of his birth at Wakefield, England.

Nearing the 40-year mark, Longden was brought to Canada when he was two years old. He spent his childhood in Taber, Alta., and began riding on United States tracks in 1927. Last year he hit and passed the 3,000 mark in winners.

O.C. Cricket

LONDON, June 8 (Reuters)—Use today by bowlers on several County cricket grounds of the experimental new ball, coupled with the fall of many wickets, but there was no positive proof that the bowlers found it a help.

The MCC had suggested that each county should try out the experimental seam-stitched ball—it has seam ends of nine strands instead of eight in their first two home matches after Whitsun.

Among those who used it were Essex and Nottinghamshire at Brentwood, but the Essex secretary R. Paterson declared today that his county used this type of ball all last season.

"We found it tended to keep its shape longer, but I would not like to say whether bowlers found it a help," he said.

NAME PLAYERS DRAW FANS

[illegible] we have a special [illegible] name players the fans are [illegible] they are watching big league baseball. We can afford to pay high salaries because we've got a system whereby wealthy city merchants and industrial companies guarantee the salaries of the big name player.

"But don't get me wrong, we also play a high class of ball.

"Our average salary is between $6,000 to $7,000 and this season we imported 25 minor players from the Southern United States league that could easily play in our league.

The league which embraces other brooks Farnham, St. Jerome, Granby, St. Hyacinthe and Drummondville, plays twenty night games to an average attendance of 2,500.

Throughout the season the big name players are dressed to the fans, who take every opportunity to shower gifts on them [illegible] the ex-[illegible] if you [illegible] of having them [illegible] the league.

Quebec Fans' Generosity With Benefits Reason For Lanier's Refusal to Accept Card Contract

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que., June 8 (CP)—If St. Louis Cardinals want to lure Pitcher Max Lanier from the non-plated Independent Provincial Baseball League here, they'll have to come close to the $20,000 he is reported receiving now.

The Cards deny they have offered him his old contract—the same as he was getting in 1946 when Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler [illegible] for jumping to the outlawed Mexican League. The contract at that time called for $11,500.

Max claims the Cards have made the offer but shrinks it off with: "Here's my salary and I jump back into the majors for the same salary I was getting in '46? They'll have to pay a lot better than that if they want me back."

And maybe he's not kidding.

TOTAL EARNINGS $20,000

League President Albert Mellon estimates that the star flinger is receiving a salary of $12,000 from Drummondville Cubs plus other benefits bringing his total earnings to $20,000. He says the benefits include free board and lodging, clothes and "money gifts" from the fans.

Mellon answered by saying his syndicate can afford such name players as Lanier, Danny Gardella, Sal Maglie and Alex Carrasquel [illegible] to hit the nail on the head. He said:

"We keep [illegible] have a special [illegible] name players the fans are [illegible] they are watching big league baseball. We can afford to pay high salaries because we've [illegible] if [illegible] of having them [illegible] the league.

The various Wests were so impressed with the powerful bidding against them that they did not double the slam contracts.

At one table, however the North-South bidding was less impressive and luckily enough for them, West fell! The auction went:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	Pass	Dbl.
Redbl.	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's choice of a diamond opening—the correct bid—kept North from jumping his response, and resulted in trapping West, who had started out by trapping on his own account! When the enemy stopped at five clubs, West was probably so disappointed that he doubled out of sheer pique!

South had to play well to make six clubs—but he did just that, and his score of 950 points for making five clubs redoubled with an overtrick nosed out by 30 all those other North-South teams which had actually bid and made the small slam!

Peace Possible By C.S.U.-T.L.C. On West Coast

A Vancouver newspaper said yesterday that a separate peace between the West Coast section of the outlawed Canadian Seafarers' Union and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada is possible.

[illegible] stated yesterday by Percy R. Bengough, president of the congress, in a long distance telephone interview.

Such a step would not be British Columbia Coast seamen. It would be their union affiliate, headed by Harry Davis of Montreal.

CSU SUSPENDED

The Congress executive last Saturday suspended the CSU, whose members have been on strike for nine months in a contract dispute with Eastern shipowners. The seafarers represent the Seafarers' International Union, AFL.

The 1,000-man West Coast section of the CSU recently signed a new agreement with British Columbia shipowners and the congress.

[illegible] is that if James Thompson, West Coast vice-president, applied for a separate federal charter he would get it, said the paper. Bengough was quoted as saying:

MATTER FOR ADJUSTMENT

"That is a matter for adjustment between the West Coast section of the CSU and the congress. If the West Coast section so desires."

The newspaper added that Bengough was critical of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (TLC) in refusing to treat as final the suspension of the CSU. At a meeting Tuesday night, the council refused to unseat CSU delegates.

"The CSU [illegible] was contrary to our advice," Bengough was quoted as saying. "There is another document on the way to council which should make them change their minds."

Little Ones That Got Away

Photo shows small fish wiggling their way to safety through strands of Guthrie net, new selective type of net which brings up shrimps and usable fish, and lets other types of sea life work its way back to freedom. Net is snood like attachment of over-sized mesh. Hard-twine net interlaced with twine strings is attached to central part of regulation shrimp net. Soft twine is pliable enough to allow small fish to escape, but shrimps are out of luck. It has been estimated that universal use of net would save billions of fish from destruction.

Continued Education Aid Pledged by B.C. Premier

NEW DENVER, B.C., June 8.—In one of the most stirring speeches in his whirlwind campaign, Premier Byron Johnson said here today that as long as he is Premier of British Columbia "the Government will continue to help generously towards the education of our children."

Addressing a crowd of 250 in Bosun Hall and a group gathered outside, the Premier said he is sure no citizen of this Province "would begrudge the children an education to make them good citizens of our country.'

"I'm proud that our Government saw fit to pay 50 per cent of the construction of all schools in organized territory, plus half the cost of

The Premier, who flew to this town of 1,000 on the shores of Slocan Lake from Penticton, stressed that education costs and the gigantic sum "we spend on social services" can be carried on only through taxation.

He explained that of the 3 per cent sales tax "two per cent is devoted entirely to providing our old-age pensioners with a better standard of living."

Mr. Johnson said it was the decision of the Liberal and Conservative parties at separate conventions to seek re-election of the Coalition administration because of the many difficulties facing the country at this time.

QUIET, ERNEST TALK

Speaking quietly but earnest in his convictions the Premier said he came here to see conditions for himself and stated that while the Public Works Department has been spending most of its time concentrating on arterial highway construction "every consideration will be given other roads."

Shortly after his arrival he held a conference with local officials who complained of road conditions between here and Kaslo, 35 miles east on Kotenay Lake. Prior to his address, Mr. Johnson, his wife and son, Byron Jr., were guests at a dinner arranged by Coalition supporters in the new Market Hotel.

Because of the large attendance at the meeting, a loudspeaker was beamed to citizens gathered outside the hall.

After the meeting, the Premier's party visited the TB Sanitarium for Japanese located on the shores of Slocan Lake just outside the town.

There, the Premier and Mrs. Johnson were escorted around by Lila Boyd, matron, and met Ernest Adams, superintendent, and Dr. S. C. Robinson, medical superintendent.

OPENED IN 1943

The sanitarium, constructed by Japanese labor, was opened April 1, 1943. Since March, 1948, it has been operated jointly by the Federal and Provincial Departments of Health.

Miss Boyd told the Premier that there have been as many as 85 patients in the hospital at one time. At the present time there are 57 patients.

Also accompanying the Premier on his tour through the sanitarium was Shige Kiyono, former Japanese resident at Cumberland, who now operates a jewelry and sports shop here. Tom Leask, Coalition candidate for Kaslo-Slocan riding in the June 15 election, spoke briefly to the meeting and later accompanied the Premier's party in their chartered plane to Kaslo, where Mr. Johnson addressed another large crowd.

The New Denver polling division has the largest Japanese vote in the province. Of 431 names on the voters' list there are 208 Japanese.

Drew Scores Sale of Plant To U.S. Firm

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., June 8 (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, charged tonight that Canada's largest aircraft plant, built at a cost of $22,000,000 was handed over to an American firm for $4,000,000.

He was referring to the Canadair Limited plant at Montreal.

Addressing a political rally in this city, represented in the last Commons by a Liberal member Rev. Dan McIvor, Mr. Drew said:

"The largest aircraft plant in Canada, which had cost Canadian taxpayers approximately $22,000,000, passed out of Canadian control and was handed over to the Electric Boat Company of the United States for a maximum payment of $4,000,000.

NO TENDERS CALLED

"In spite of the fact that we have many experienced Canadian aircraft manufacturers, no Canadian was given an opportunity to keep this plant, built with the money of the Canadian taxpayers, under Canadian control. Negotiations were secret. No tenders were called for.

"This disgraceful transaction was completed without Parliament or the public receiving any hint that the Government had the slightest intention of disposing of this extremely important Crown company.

"One of the most extraordinary features of this secret deal is the fact that the Government knew there were Canadian aircraft manufacturers who were prepared to pay a very much larger figure for the plant," he said.

Free Courses Given D.P.'s

British Columbia's Department of Education assumed the responsibility of educating displaced persons from Europe after the Dominion Immigration Department declined it, Hon. W. T. Straith, minister of education, said at a Coalition meeting in Cobble Hill last night.

He was speaking in support of Cmdr. C. T. Beard, Coalition candidate for Esquimalt.

Displaced persons were offered free courses in English and other subjects.

Mr. Straith outlined the Cameron plan of equalizing educational costs and opportunities.

Coalition is "a marriage of convenience," last until "the C.C.F. is washed-up," Cmdr. Beard said.

Hits at Policy Of Former Mayor

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—Arthur Laing, Federal Liberal candidate in Vancouver South, tonight scored the "do-nothing" policy of Jack Cornett while he was mayor here. Mr. Cornett is Progressive Conservative candidate in the riding.

"When he was mayor," he said, "he was a prime example of those who during the war lay dormant behind the excuse that there were no men, materials or money to do the work."

SAYS SOCIALISM FAILS

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said tonight Socialism cannot succeed on a provincial scale. "A Socialist government must have national powers," he warned, "including power over banking and foreign exchange, because capital will flee unless the Government has authority to stop it."

Clark States Party's Stand

The Union of Electors stands for an "unfettered legislature controlled by the people and for full use of British Columbia's vast resources to ensure economic security with the greatest possible freedom for all," W. J. Clark said at a meeting last night at 1406 Douglas Street.

He has been Reeve of Oak Bay and Mayor of Victoria.

ELECTED IN 1933

He was first elected to the Legislature in 1933 and returned in the general elections of 1937, 1941 and 1945. He has served as Minister of Public Works, Minister of Railways and Minister of Municipal Affairs and was appointed to his present post of Minister of Finance in April, 1946.

Says People of B.C. Bombarded With "Half Truths" by C.C.F.

C.C.F.-ers are bombarding the people of British Columbia, with "irresponsible statements" and "half truths" about Socialism in Saskatchewan and trying to paint it as a "land of milk and honey," Coalition Candidate Arthur Ash asserted at a campaign meeting at Gordon Head Hall last night.

Premier Thomas Douglas, for example, had been trying to make British Columbia trying to create the impression that the C.C.F. Government had reduced Saskatchewan's debt by $72,000,000 in its first four years of office.

Debt reduction from 1944 to 1949 was $63,295,000 and it would look very impressive, said Mr. Ash, except for the fact that $61,520,000 of this amount had been written off by other agencies—including $36,337,000 in canceled Federal relief loans, $8,031,000 by the Federal Government under a natural resources agreement of 1930, $3,303,000 by the Wheat Pool, $2,304,000 by the Government Telephone Company and $3,883,000 paid by farmers on their 1938 seed grain advances.

Premier Douglas, said Mr. Ash, had stated taxes had not been increased and added that "he must be using a different kind of dictionary" to define taxes.

Actually, the Government had increased levies on gasoline, farm truck licences, grazing fees, hay-cutting fees, minerals, royalties on fish, lumber and furs, sawmill permits, automobile licences, licences on dance halls and films, hospitalization, coal production. In addition it had increased school taxes on land.

To top it off, the Government had estimated for an extra $1,000,000 in sales tax, although they were pledged to abolish the tax.

After briefly reviewing the achievements of the Coalition, Mr. Ash reminded water-starved Gordon Head residents that Premier Byron Johnson had promised an engineering survey to ascertain the possibility of increased supplies for domestic and irrigation purposes.

Mrs. Margaret Harvey warned that the "pink" C.C.F. was tinged with a streak of "red." C.C.F.-ers were certainly not all subscribers to the Communist doctrine—many were very sincere—but Communism was infiltrating the party.

"I cannot forget," she said, "that the British Columbia C.C.F. did not support the Atlantic Pact, which shows a lack of appreciation of the facts in the world today."

The C.C.F. was pledged to socialize all major industries and this policy of control and regimentation would inevitably reach further until it invaded the corner store and the freedom of the individual became a thing of the past.

Taking of Advance Vote Begins on Island Today

BRITISH Columbians who will be absent from the province, or otherwise unable to vote in the Provincial elections on June 15, may cast ballots at advance polls today, Friday and Saturday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., according to Fred Hurley, chief electoral officer.

They must first apply in person for a certificate from the registrar or returning officer of the district.

On Vancouver Island, advanced polls are being held at Nanaimo for Nanaimo and the Islands constituency, and at Victoria for Saanich, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Victoria City.

Ballots cast in advance will be sealed and counted with those cast on election day.

B.C. Natural Resources Development Bill Defended by Attorney-General

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer told a meeting here that any agreement reached between the Aluminum Company of Canada and the British Columbia Government will be submitted to the next session of the Legislature.

"They can accept or reject it as they see fit," he said in defence of the National Resources Development Bill.

He told a Coalition rally last night that the act—known as Bill 66—provided only that the Province could negotiate an agreement with any company intending to found an aluminum plant in British Columbia.

DENIES C.C.F. CLAIMS

He denied C.C.F. claims that the bill allowed the Cabinet "to give away the resources of the people" without consulting the Legislature.

The aluminum company plans a $500,000,000 investment in British Columbia if a present $1,000,000 survey shows the feasibility of locating in this province.

"The company wants only a guarantee that it will not be discriminated against or confiscated," said Mr. Wismer.

"The Government is going to enter a fair deal with this company. They are going to be required to pay exactly the same rates for the water they are going to use as the B.C. Electric, the B.C. Power Commission, or any other company pays.

"The company does not want our timber, land or minerals, but to use water which has been wasting its way to the Pacific for thousands of years . . . they are willing to pay for it."

PLAN FOR PROSPERITY

Mr. Wismer said that Coalition has a plan "not like the Socialists—with no details—but a plan for the greatest era of . . . prosperity this province has ever known."

Addressing an election meeting in Vancouver Centre, Mr. Wismer warned there would be a flight of capital if the C.C.F. were elected.

"Never mind what Tommy Douglas (Saskatchewan Premier T. C. Douglas) says with his excuses for blunders in Saskatchewan."

Allan McDonnell, also a Coalition candidate in Vancouver Centre, cautioned his audience against a "planned economy administered by Gargraves and Winches, who have never provided anybody with a day's labor."

QUESTIONS PROPOSAL

Mr. McDonnell questioned the C.C.F. proposal to get revenue for social services from mines and other private businesses.

"It would be unwise to tie old-age pensions in with profits of industry," he said. "Industry does not always make profits, and if there were no profits there would be no pensions."

P.C. Winner In By-Election

COCHRANE, Ont., June 8 (CP).—Marcel Leger, Progressive Conservative, defeated a lone C.C.F. opponent, Roy Kenney, to win today's provincial by-election in the Northern Ontario constituency of Cochrane North.

Retaining the seat for the Progressive Conservative Party, Mr. Leger built up a substantial winning margin of votes early in the tabulation and maintained it as the count proceeded.

The Liberal Party did not contest the by-election, called because of the death of John Carrere, Progressive Conservative Member of the Ontario Legislature, killed in a level-crossing accident last October.

Party standings in the 90-seat Ontario Legislature now are:

Progressive Conservatives, 52; C.C.F., 21; Liberals, 13; Labor-Progressive, two; Liberal-Labor, one.

Power Costs Hit by C.C.F.

Public ownership of hydro-electric developments in Ontario has cut rates 19 per cent in the past ten years, but in British Columbia, with private ownership, the average reduction has been less than 1 per cent, Martin Neilson, C.C.F. candidate for Saanich, told a meeting at Brentwood Women's Institute Hall last night.

Trustees Consider Revised Pay Rates

DUNCAN, June 8.—A summary of teachers' salary schedules for school districts Nos. 65 to 72 was submitted by E. Vandecasteyen, secretary-treasurer of the Mid-Island branch of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association, at the annual convention in St. John's Hall.

Delegates from Cowichan district, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Alberni, Courtenay, Campbell River, Qualicum and Cowichan Lake school boards were welcomed to the city by Mayor J. C. Wragg.

Trustee George Anderson, president, reported that the executive committee of the Mid-Island Branch and the Qualicum School Board would be sponsors of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association convention at Qualicum Beach in September.

A financial statement showing receipts of $113, and expenditures of $62.35 was submitted by Mr. Vandecasteyen.

Trustee Anderson, Nanaimo, was re-elected president for the 13th term, and Mr. Vandecasteyen, Ladysmith, will serve his 14th year as secretary-treasurer. Trustee Mrs. M. H. Hamilton was named vice-president.

It was decided to hold the 1950 convention at Nanaimo, subject to approval of the board of Nanaimo School District No. 68.

Trustees adopted the proposed teachers' salary schedules, and recommended that they be discussed by each school board concerned.

Crown Enters Stay At Nanaimo Assizes

NANAIMO, June 8.—At the re-opening of the Spring Assizes here before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane, an application of the Crown Prosecutor for a stay of proceedings was granted in the case of Owen G. Brown, Fred Wilson, Olaf Olson and Seigfred Carlson, W.I.U.C. members charged with theft of I.W.A. furniture and fixtures.

The stay is tantamount to the dropping of the proceedings against accused, although the case may continue legally at a future date.

In the case of Rex, vs. Sveinsson of Courtenay, a rape charge which was traversed to the Fall Assizes, Mr. Justice Macfarlane granted a reduction in bail from $5,000 to $2,000.

Sveinsson stood trial at the Spring Assizes here, at which time the jury failed to reach an agreement.

Work on Sooke Bridges To Cost About $110,000

SOOKE, June 8.—New bridges over Tugwell, Muir and Sandstone Creeks were being constructed at a total cost of about $110,000, Cmdr. C. T. Beard explained at a Coalition campaign meeting in the dining-room of Sooke Community Hall. P. W. Taylor presided.

In discussing the possibility of completing the West Coast Road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, Cmdr. Beard felt that a landing strip for planes would assist residents of the Port in the meantime.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges stated that repairs to Sooke Road would be finished in time for All-Sooke Day on July 27. She noted that 42 per cent of the money collected by the Provincial Government was spent on social welfare. She urged every person with a vote to use it on June 15, election day.

Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture, pointed out that British Columbia did not produce sufficient food for its residents. He thought farmers harvesting seven tons of potatoes per acre could raise the figure to 15 tons. He was sure that citizens would be far more healthy if animal diseases could be eradicated and soil possessed the proper mineral content.

"I'm in business for myself"

Bob Dixon,
Independent Chevron Dealer,
City Garage, Rossland, B.C.

"The day the Cream, Green and Burgundy colours went up above my City Garage, I was mighty proud. Those colours meant I'd gone into business for myself . . . at my own Chevron Gas Station. And, take it from me, that's a good feeling.

How's business? Improving all the time! New customers drive in because they recognize my Chevron Gas Station as the place to buy Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM Motor Oil . . . and stay with me because they like the personal service I aim to give. Yes, my Chevron Flag is flying high. I'm building a great future in my own business by offering the sort of products and service the folks in my neighborhood want."

Canada's great Leader

LOUIS ST. LAURENT, Prime Minister of Canada

At the polls on June 27 the voter must ask himself, ahead of anything else, who should be head of the government.

In Louis St. Laurent, Canada has a great national leader.

That he had high abilities of the mind was proved by his career in law. That he had wisdom in cabinet, unique gifts in parliamentary debate and a quick grasp of large affairs became clear as soon as he entered the Government. In international affairs, as one of the original advocates of the Atlantic Pact, he made himself a world figure who spoke out as no Canadian before him, in the councils of the nations.

He also revealed an understanding of ordinary people, because he is one of them.

This warm and essentially simple human being is the real St. Laurent, the product of the small town, of humble beginnings, hard work, a big family and the friendliness of country neighbors.

In blood, language and instinct he combines the qualities of two great races.

To the voter it is equally important that St. Laurent is the leader of a truly national party, with proved strength from coast to coast, the only party which can hope to form a stable government after the election. His character, his ability and his achievements have made him the leader of all the Canadian people.

Members of association will celebrate occasion at dance to be held in Crystal Garden Saturday evening.

Alderman, Back From Month in U.K., Says Victoria Best Place to Live

Recently returned from a month-long visit to Britain, Alderman Frank G. Mulliner confided yesterday that he was still of the firm opinion that Victoria is "the best place in the world in which to live."

Enjoying leave of absence from City Council for the month of May, Alderman Mulliner traveled with his wife by rail to Montreal and flew from there to England.

SAW ALL CLASSES

During his visit Alderman Mulliner talked to all classes of people, particularly in London, in order to gain a first-hand impression of how well the people of the Old Country have recovered from war devastation.

He said the top of a London bus is one of the best vantage points from which to take stock of war damage to buildings and postwar reconstruction.

"There are of course whole blocks wiped out which are now used as parking areas, and due to the thousands of buildings that can be repaired, the chances of rebuilding are all matters for years to come," stated the alderman.

"When you pause to think of the terrific burden of taxation and the fact that after so many years of war the people are still restricted in obtaining good clothing at a reasonable price and under ration for certain foods, it is no wonder that the cry 'all for export' is not a palatable one," continued Alderman Mulliner.

ALDERMAN F. G. MULLINER

"There is a story about the triplets which were born in a London hospital and the father, who, when called, was shown one and advised the other two were for export."

Alderman Mulliner said visitors are struck by the fine physical condition of British children, "which is proof that the work started for their betterment before the war is being continued at an increased tempo."

He recalled that London streets remain as narrow as ever while traffic problems increase despite the extension of the tubes.

"If you do not step lively from island to island in such places as Trafalgar Square and streets near the railway station you take your life in your own hands," continued Alderman Mulliner.

LIGHTS TURNED ON

He said that early in May London resumed its full program of street lighting together with Neon lights.

"I was happy to note that some of the new street lighting was of the same pattern as ours, including new Mercury installations," he observed.

Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral, "with their glorious history of the British people," still retain their fascination for visitors, according to Alderman Mulliner.

Fire Fighters Mopping Up Duncan Blaze

Thirty-five men were employed yesterday in "mopping up" the 100-acre forest fire in the Solly Creek area, 11 miles northwest of Duncan, the British Columbia Forest Service reported last night.

The fire was reported as under control.

Throughout British Columbia 27 fires were reported burning, all under control except a 50-acre blaze at Sarita Lake. The blaze is traveling over felled and bucked timber but forest officials said there was a good chance of bringing it under control.

The hazard on the Mainland was reported low to moderate. Cloudy weather and light winds have caused a slight reduction in the hazard on Vancouver Island which was reported as "high" earlier this week.

Wood Dealers Checked Up; Two Charged

Two city men will appear in police court next Tuesday charged with operating a woodyard without a permit contrary to terms of the city building by-law.

City officials said the charges were laid in keeping with a new "get tough" policy set by City Council in dealing with wood dealers who operate their yards without permits.

Investigations are being made by the building inspector, the fire chief and the lands commissioner in an attempt to discover how many additional woodyards are being operated without permits.

It was stated charges were to be laid against other woodyard operators found to be violating city by-laws.

More Cars Operating In Province

Number of motor vehicles operating in British Columbia up to the end of April has increased 19,206 over the same period last year, the Provincial superintendent of motor vehicles reported yesterday.

Total number of vehicles operating under British Columbia registration was 184,690 at the end of April as against 165,484 for last year. Commercial vehicles numbered 48,336 as against 42,885 for last year.

There were 339,429 licenced drivers in the province at the end of April compared to 318,754 for the same period in 1948.

Brothers Reunited in City

John R. Johnson (left) greets his brother, George Johnson, who is almost stranger to him after 27-year separation. Last time brothers saw each other was in Wasca, Finland—their home town. George Johnson, 731 Market Street, met his brother yesterday and hardly knew him. John Johnson and his family drove to Victoria from United States especially for family reunion.

Air Force Aerobatic Displays To Be Seen Over City Saturday

Air Force Day on Saturday will not be allowed to pass unnoticed in Victoria if the R.C.A.F. has its way—and it will.

To remind the public of the wonderful work the R.C.A.F. has done in the past—and is still doing—aircraft from the R.C.A.F. station Sea Island will roar over Victoria skies Saturday morning in formation flights and aerobatic displays, it was announced from R.C.A.F. headquarters yesterday.

Saturday has been set aside as Air Force Day all across Canada and will be marked by flights of aircraft in nearly all the larger cities.

HALF-HOUR DISPLAY

A formation of Harvard aircraft will feature a half-hour display commencing at 10 a.m. A Beechcraft will take over at 11 a.m. and one Harvard will finish the show at 11:20 with a full aerobatic display.

Meanwhile, the Royal Canadian Flying Clubs Association, the "little brother" to the R.C.A.F., will take over Sunday and for the remainder of next week with the celebration of National Flying Club Week.

The Victoria Flying Club is doing its part in bringing to the attention of the public the importance of private flying in Canada.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

The clubrooms at Patricia Bay airport will be thrown open to the public on Sunday, June 19, and they will have an opportunity to inspect instructional facilities and flying equipment and to learn about the new high standard of training that is now being offered.

The object of National Flying Club Week is to familiarize all Canadians with details of Government aid to student flyers and to encourage as many young people as possible to take advantage of the aviation eduction opportunities now available at the various clubs in Canada.

Montana Band Visits Victoria

Some 140 members of the Butte, Montana, High School Band, with 100 parents, friends and chaperones, paid a three-hour visit to Victoria yesterday. Bandmaster H. J. Schlesser brought his charges here for a breathing-spell before their engagement at Portland Rose Festival, June 8 to 12.

KEEP UP ACTIVITIES

Two former Victoria College students who were classmates and close friends are keeping up similar extra-curricular activities although 1,500 miles apart.

George Cumming, University of British Columbia student, was recently named co-ordinator of activities for the 1949-1950 term, while his friend, Dave MacKenzie, formerly of Oak Bay, has been elected vice-president of Dobney House, one of the four residences on the campus of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena.

BROTHERS REUNITED

Three brothers who last saw each other 34 years ago while in the Canadian Army overseas during the Great War, have been reunited briefly this week in Victoria.

Visiting at the home of the eldest, Reginald Victor Downton, 1256 Roy Road, Colquitz, are his younger brothers Harold, 64, of Southampton, England, and George, 70, Vancouver businessman.

Harold, who operates a boot and shoe factory in the English city, stayed in England after his demobilization at the end of the Great War.

Together with his wife, who is accompanying him on his three-month visit to Canada, he will leave today with George for Vancouver.

MORE REINFORCEMENTS

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 8 (Reuters).—Further reinforcements for the Hongkong garrison will sail Friday aboard the troopship Empire Trooper, it was announced today. These will include the Royal Artillery Regiment and a part of a company of the Royal Army Service Corps.

Young Cyclist Suffers Injury In Car Mishap

A 12-year-old cyclist was treated in St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday for injuries to his left side, head and elbow after an 8:55 traffic accident near the intersection of Douglas Street and Caledonia Avenue, city police reported.

According to police reports, officers were first summoned to an accident "on Douglas Street, north of Herald Street" at 8:55, but on arrival there found participants of the accident had left, although an eyewitness had taken down the car licence.

APPROACHED ON BEAT

Then at 9 a.m. Constable Reginald Churcher said he was approached on his beat by John W. Sedgwick, Metchosin Road, who reported he had driven the car that was in collision with Howard Hope, 1434 Government Street. According to the report the boy suffered no apparent injuries.

Later Sgt. Thomas Bannister with Constable Deans Blackstock found young Hope in St. Joseph's Hospital, then sought out Sedgwick at his work and impounded his car for driving without insurance.

Hardware Men Begin Study Of Problems

"How can we continue to make a profit with less business, mounting expenses and lower margins?"

That will be the theme of discussions at the Pacific Coast Wholesale Hardware Summer conference which opened yesterday at the Empress Hotel.

The statement came from Harry Sloss, San Francisco hardware man, who is organizing this year's conference.

The parley, which will continue this morning and on the mornings of Friday and Saturday, drew 32 hardware wholesalers from the 11 Western United States. None are from Canada.

Adding to Mr. Sloss's organizing difficulties is the fact that his brother, Henry, a colleague on the same firm, is an identical twin.

MELFORT, Sask., June 8 (CP).—In view of the important position which Canada has attained in international affairs, her external relations must be handled with freedom, restraint and intelligence, External Affairs Minister Pearson said at a campaign meeting here today.

A Liberal Government is best fitted to conduct Canada's foreign affairs on these terms, Mr. Pearson said.
